Voices From the Wreckage: Young Adult Voices in the #MeToo Movement Kimberly Karshner, 2023-04-18 Voices From the Wreckage Young Adult Voices in the MeToo Movement is an edited collection by Kimberly Greenfield Karshner Lorain County Community College This collection focuses on situating young adult voices in the MeToo movement and into American culture and identity Children s and young adult literature is an area of study that has rapidly evolved in the past ten years bringing previously silenced voices to light This is especially true for YA LGBTQ voices and also for young narrators who are not only discovering celebrating and coming to terms with their identities but also dealing with assaults on their identities This collection will build on what writers like Laurie Halse Anderson have begun first with her groundbreaking book on sexual assault Speak published in 1999 and more currently her follow up book Shout 2019 These authors continue what Anderson started exploring texts from the perspectives of YA male and female voices Native American and international perspectives and LGBTQ character representation Chapters investigate various literary forms such as graphic novels memoirs and novels and cover topics such as sexual desire consent trauma and survivorship The literature featured in this volume will assure young people that they can tell their stories and that they will be heard Voices From the Wreckage will be a valuable tool for anyone who teaches Young Adult Literature or for those who are avid readers and fans of the genre The authors in this collection are starting and continuing very important conversations on the topic of sexual abuse and trauma a conversation necessary for the intended audiences of these books and for adult readers and teachers who are facilitating the emotions connected to these topics

Embracing Diversity

Sarah Bickens, Frances Bittman, David J. Connor, 2023 Written by experienced English Language Arts educators this book is about the craft of teaching with a particular focus on embracing human diversity through classic contemporary and unconventional texts to develop students as critical thinkers Narrating their own experiences in schools the authors provide insights through reflecting upon aspects of everyday pedagogy Featuring a rich array of texts designed to be both familiar and unfamiliar to the reader the authors explore complex issues raised by a diverse body of writers while simultaneously sharing methods that engage students to think critically

Getting to the Common Core

Sharon L. Spencer, Sandra Vavra, 2015-01-01 The Common Core Standards have recently been adopted in most states across the nation and teachers are in the process of getting to the core of these standards Teaching to standards is not a new concept teachers have adapted to new standards every few years for quite some time And teachers are adaptable as can be seen in this book We are writing this book to demonstrate how teachers use research based strategies to meet Common Core Standards while still focusing on students Our goal is to help teachers visualize students in action as other teachers describe the implementation of research based strategies in their own classrooms show student work samples and provide reflections of student success in achieving the standards Many Common Core Standards books focus on the standards but our approach focuses on strategies that engage the students in the classroom showing how different teachers at varying grade levels have used the strategies to meet the standards With this focus we believe that teachers gain a new and positive perspective on approaching the new standards and see the flexibility of strategies for meeting standards across subject areas We have examined research on the strategies with the purpose of giving teachers a brief description of why these strategies work before giving actual examples from classrooms We also work closely with teachers in the public schools and have our finger on the pulse of what is happening in the public schools one of the current stressors being unpacking the Common Core Standards This book actually focuses on practice We begin by laying out a rationale in our first chapter The Core Values of Education Then each chapter focuses on a strategy including 1 a brief description about the research supporting each strategy and 2 several examples from different grade levels which include a description of how the strategy was used student work samples and a reflection on the use of the strategy The research descriptions are fairly short because while we believe professional educators aka teachers in this case should know the research that supports practice we know they are not typically interested in long diatribes about the research

Teaching to Exceed the English

Language Arts Common Core State Standards Richard Beach,Amanda Haertling Thein,Allen Webb,2012-06-25 As the new English Language Arts Common Core State Standards take hold across the United States the need grows for pre service and in service teachers to be ready to develop curriculum and instruction that addresses their requirements This timely thoughtful and comprehensive text directly meets this need It delineates a literacy practices and critical engagement curriculum framework for 6 12 English language arts education that explains and illustrates how the Standards highest and best intentions for student success can be implemented from a critical culturally relevant perspective that is firmly grounded in current literacy learning theory and research The first 6 12 English language arts methods text to be aligned with the Standards this book also addresses their limitations formalist assumptions about literacy learning limited attention to media digital literacies lack of attention to critical literacies and questionable assumptions about linking standards and text complexity to specific grade levels Specific examples of teachers using the literacy practices critical engagement curriculum framework in their classrooms shows how these limitations can be surpassed Features Moves the CCSS framework into a view that literacy is a contextualized social practice Challenges simplistic models that homogenize adolescent learners Adds the important element of critical literacy to English language arts classrooms Provides specific examples of teachers in action implementing these practices Interactive Companion Website with student and instructor resources The Website is designed to foster interactivity through participation in an online teaching planning simulation with a text video or case on one side of the screen and a chat box for instructors and students to share their reactions and planning ideas The Companion Website is linked to a wiki that serves as a repository for links activities units and further reading

Social Justice Instruction

Rosemary Papa,Danielle M. Eadens,Daniel W. Eadens,2016-03-22 This resource offers instructors a full palette of strategies for teaching social justice concepts across subject areas from kindergarten through college Dividing its content between elementary adolescent and adult learners the book analyzes the classroom experience as a powerful means of challenging stereotypes and supporting inclusion respect and equity History language arts literature and social studies as well as mathematics and science are shown as platforms for tying critical thinking to moral behavior And while professional development underlies all chapters in the text special areas such as technology curriculum design recognizing student demographics and raising social justice awareness in school culture are spotlighted Among the topics covered Reframing social justice for the adult learner The politics of being faculty of color teaching social justice in the college classroom Stories of social justice from the kindergarten classroom Critical literacy and multicultural literature The shaming creating a curriculum that promotes socially responsible online engagement Literacy is a civil write the art science and soul of transformative classrooms For educators and education researchers involved in the field Social Justice Instruction unlocks the potential for imparting progressive ideas along the educational spectrum The strategies here model a humanist perspective that will serve learners both in and outside the classroom Graphic Novels and the Common Core Tara Lynn Jakubik,2014 State tests which assess reading comprehension ask students to make inferences and connections beyond the text The problem of practice in which this study is situated is that students are having difficulty making meaningful connections and developing inferences in relation to the material that is read aloud together in class or assigned for homework Indicators of their struggle include post reading assessments such as reading comprehension tests with multiple choice and open ended questions similar to those used on high stakes tests The dissertation describes a research project in which graphic novels were incorporated into the curriculum to provide students with an opportunity to work with a nontraditional literary genre Data sources included video recordings of student think alouds video recordings of literature circles and the NJ High School Proficiency Assessment NJ HSPA test scores Descriptive statistics informed the analysis of the data The constructs of the research were examined through forms of behavior such as student performance during individual and small group work e g think alouds and literature circles The think aloud and the literature circles were coded by text features for the reading comprehension strategies and student behavior and allowed for reflective analysis Findings suggested that readers made connections to the Common Core Standards when reading graphic novels The research also found correlations between NJ HSPA scores and reading strategies used and behaviors enacted The research also indicated that students of varying Language Arts proficiency levels supported one another in reading comprehension in small group settings Instruments; the Magazine of Measurement and Control ,1954 Instruments & Control Systems ,1967-07
