Gatekeeping in Transition Timothy Vos,François Heinderyckx,2015-06-08 Much of what journalism scholars thought they knew about gatekeeping about how it is that news turns out the way it does has been called into question by the recent seismic economic and technological shifts in journalism These shifts come with new kinds of gatekeepers new routines of news production new types of news organizations new means for shaping the news and new channels of news distribution Given these changing realities some might ask does gatekeeping still matter In this internationally minded anthology of new gatekeeping research contributors attempt to answer that question Gatekeeping in Transition examines the role of gatekeeping in the twenty first century from organizational institutional and social perspectives across digital and traditional media and argues for its place in contemporary scholarship about news and journalism

Carbon Governance, Climate Change and Business Transformation Adam Bumpus,James Tansey,Blas Luis Pérez Henríquez,Chukwumerije Okereke,2014-07-17 Transformation to a low carbon economy is a central tenet to any discussion on the solutions to the complex challenges of climate change and energy security Despite advances in policy carbon management and continuing development of clean technology fundamental business transformation has not occurred because of multiple political economic social and organisational issues Carbon Governance Climate Change and Business Transformation is based on leading academic and industry input and three international workshops focused on low carbon transformation in leading climate policy jurisdictions Canada USA and the UK under the international Carbon Governance Project CGP banner The book pulls insights from this innovative collaborative network to identify the policy combinations needed to create transformative change It explores fundamental questions about how governments and the private sector conceptualize the problem of climate change the conditions under which business transformation can genuinely take place and key policy and business innovations needed Broadly the book is based on emerging theories of multi levelled multi actor carbon governance and applies these ideas to the real world implications for tackling climate change through business transformation Conceptually and empirically this book stimulates both academic discussion and practical business models for low carbon transformation

REDD+ politics in the media: A case study from Tanzania Demetrius Kweka, 2014-02-06 This research is part of the policy component of CIFOR's global comparative study on Reducing Emissions from Deforestation and forest Degradation GCS REDD which is conducting research in 12 countries across Africa Asia and Latin America The media analysis investigates how discourse around REDD policy is framed in the mainstream Tanzanian press identifying media frames and the main actors and their positions on REDD while looking at a range of variables at different levels The study found that Tanzania is actively involved in REDD both by developing supportive policies and by implementing projects on the ground primarily with support from Norway The media reflects the general agreement support for and optimism about REDD by various stakeholders REDD is seen as a source of additional income for local communities and as a mechanism to curb deforestation The main concerns expressed are whether its implementation will be effective and cost efficient and whether benefits will be shared equitably Two major actors were found to be shaping the REDD discourse in Tanzania government agencies and nongovernmental organizations NGOs The study found that REDD discourse in Tanzania revolved around three main meta topics ecology economics and marketing with a strong correlation between REDD and economic growth Deforestation forest conservation and sustainable forest management received more publicity than any other topic followed by funding for REDD and carbon trading Most REDD articles focused on prognosis i.e. proposing solutions to the problems of deforestation Actors were optimistic and skeptical at the same time viewing REDD as a source of income and a means to curb deforestation but expressing concern about certain issues i.e. benefit sharing land tenure and carbon rights that leave a lot of unanswered questions about how it will unfold
