Jeffrey Mankoff

Iraq Bib Laden Connection Report 2008:

Sources of Power Manfred Weissenbacher, 2009-09-30 A landmark book rolls out a bold new energy based theory of human history based on a simple yet powerful law whoever controls the world's effective energy supplies during a given energy age will inevitably dominate the economic political and cultural history of that age The innovative theory articulated in Sources of Power How Energy Forges Human History parses history into four ages the foraging agriculture coal and oil ages each defined by the dominant source of power Manfred Weissenbacher tests this sweeping theory against the panorama of world history combining formidable powers of synthesis with a specialist's deep understanding of energy systems and technologies After proving the operation of his law through history and into the present Weissenbacher applies it to global geopolitical trends He assesses the prospects of the various candidate technologies to succeed oil and charts future scenarios based on the distribution of energy reserves Finally he forecasts the fates of the American and Chinese empires in the twilight of the oil age the United States as a mature superpower forced to deploy military might to occupy oilfields in the Middle East China as an emerging superpower forced to deploy economic might to muscle in on the development of Third World oilfields

Genocide, Ethnonationalism, and the United Nations Hannibal Travis, 2013-01-17 Genocide Ethnonationalism and the United Nations examines a series of related crises in human civilization growing out of conflicts between powerful states or empires and indigenous or stateless peoples This is the first book to attempt to explore the causes of genocide and other mass killing by a detailed exploration of UN archives covering the period spanning from 1945 through 2011 Hannibal Travis argues that large states and empires disproportionately committed or facilitated genocide and other mass killings between 1945 and 2011 His research incorporates data concerning factors linked to the scale of mass killing and recent findings in human rights political science and legal theory Turning to potential solutions he argues that the concept of genocide imagines a future system of global governance under which the nation state itself is made subject to law The United Nations however has deflected the possibility of such a cosmopolitical law It selectively condemns genocide and has established an institutional structure that denies most peoples subjected to genocide of a realistic possibility of global justice lacks a robust international criminal tribunal or UN army and even encourages security cooperation among states that have proven to be destructive of peoples in the past Questions raised include What have been the causes of mass killing during the period since the United Nations
