Approved By:

Mary Ellen Smith

Prepared By:

Bettina Dahlbacka

Report Highlights:

The consolidation and restructuring of the Nordic retail food sector offers interesting opportunities for U.S. suppliers in terms of volume and variety of products in demand. Best prospects include tree nuts, dried fruits, processed fruits and vegetables, organic food and products appealing to the health conscious. A major impediment to increased U.S. sales is retailers concerns about the possibility of negative consumer reactions to products containing genetically modified (GMO) ingredients.

Japan Retail Foods Retail Food Sector Report:

Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro-Ecology Yıldız Atasoy, 2017-05-18 This book explores the shifting relations of food provisioning in Turkey from a comparative global political economy perspective. It offers in depth ethnographic analysis, interviews and historical insights into the ambiguities and diversities that simultaneously affect the changing conditions of food and agriculture in Turkey. Specific issues examined include the commodification of land, food and labour, the expansion and deepening of industrial standardization, the expansion of a supermarket model and concomitant changes in as well as the simultaneous co-existence of traditional methods of production and marketing. Contrasting observations are drawn from diverse locales to provide examples of convergence, divergence and cohabitation in relation to transnationally advocated industrial models. Commodification of Global Agrifood Systems and Agro Ecology employs a form of comparative perspective that allows the particular processes of restructuring of agrifood relations in Turkey to be simultaneously distinguished from yet related to changes taking place in global power dynamics. Yıldız Atasoy explores agrifood transformation in Turkey with a unique approach that considers a plurality of intertwined normative influences, ontological beliefs, cultural, religious, narratives, political struggles and critical interpretive positions. Based on original research, the book treats changes in food provisioning as an analytical thread capable of uncovering how the normative acceptability of capitalized agriculture and techno-scientific innovation is entangled with processes of class formation, growing inter-capitalist competition and Islamic politics. Such processes in turn frame income, wealth, generation, landscape, management, agro-ecological dynamics and labour practices, as well as the taste and smell of place. Marketing High-value Food Products in the Asian Pacific Bruce J.
