Sherry Turkle, a professor of the Social Studies of Technology, has written extensively about the effects of technology on human relationships. Read Chapter 1 (Connectivity and its discontents) from her book Alone Together: Why We Expect More from Technology and Less from Each Other. What evidence does Turkle provide for her main argument that technology has served to diminish the quality of our relationships? How persuaded are you by this argument?

Review: Turkle, Sherry (2011). Alone Together: Why We Expect More from Technology and Less from Each Other. New York: Basic Books (Extract from Chapter 1- Connectivity and its discontents)

The last 20 years have seen a revolution in the way we communicate, all brought about by the quite extraordinary developments that have occurred in the field of information and communications technologies. There is no doubt that the way people interact with each other nowadays – whether in business, education, in one's personal life – is drastically different from the way things were done in the not-so-distant pre-digital past. But have these developments been positive ones? Can we say that human relations have improved as a result of these changes? Sherry Turkle in her book Alone Together: Why We Expect More from Technology and Less from Each Other is quite sure that this is not the case.

In her study, based on interviews with users of technology across a wide spectrum of society, Turkle argues that while it may appear that people are more in touch with each other, the effect paradoxically of all this new communication is that people are becoming more socially alienated. "We are increasingly connected to each other", she states, "but oddly more alone; in intimacy, new so lonely" (p. 19). Turkle quotes many stories from her interviews to illustrate her basic argument. In one worrying case, she describes the experience of a woman who goes to interview someone she is interested in employing as a nanny. When the woman arrives at the apartment, she meets the person's flatmate who at the time is texting on her BlackBerry. The woman asks to see the would-be nanny. Rather than get up to knock on this person's door – which is only 15 feet away – the flatmate sends her a text to tell of the woman's arrival. The woman is shocked – as is Turkle – that the flatmate would not simply

Comment [T1]: At the beginning of a review, you should provide all the BASIC FACTUAL INFORMATION about the text you are reviewing.

Comment [T2]: These opening sentences give some BACKGROUND to the text that is being reviewed. They introduce the general SUBJECT area covered in the text (the rise of digital communication), and also the main ISSUE being considered (have these technologies improved our relationships?).

Comment [T3]: At the end of this opening paragraph, the TEXT and its AUTHOR are introduced.

Comment [T4]: Once the text has been introduced, the main task is to DISMANTLE its contents. The first thing you need to do is focus on outlining the author's main ARGUMENT; that is, what is the main point they are seeking to make in the text.

Comment [T5]: Along with outlining the author's ARGUMENT, you should also indicate what type of EVIDENCE is presented in the text to support this ARGUMENT.

Advanced Research Methodology: Methods And Techniques Dr. S. Parvathy, Dr. M. Umayavalli, Dr. P. Ramu, Mrs. V. Manjula, 2023-07-28 The researcher's inner world is formed by his or her choice of research methodology which considers the nature of the study and the researcher's philosophy, time frame and other contextual factors. Furthermore, the research methodology works as the central nervous system since it limits the scope of the investigation and because proper research work necessitates that both the internal and exterior surroundings adhere to the correct research methodology procedure. Research methodologies refer to the procedures used to assemble information for studies. The data might be used for theoretical or applied studies such as the strategic conceptualization of management research, operational planning, methodologies and change management. Most of your work will be done when you complete the data analysis. However, before you start, you need to consider specific crucial issues in research technique such as the validity of research data, ethics and dependability. After this comes the research plan which might be either purely experimental or include some elements of experimentation. The last two steps are analyzing the data and producing the research report. The data is meticulously sorted into graphs, tables and only the most relevant information is presented. A researcher must develop a research approach appropriate to the study's subject matter. It is essential to remember that even if two topics need the same study approach, the research technique might differ.

physics chapter 10 magnetic field due to electric current - Apr 21 2022 web magnetic field due to electric current by a m kharche hans christian oersted first discovered a magnetic field produced by an electric current passing through the wire later gauss henry faraday and others showed that the magnetic field is an important partner of the electric field the direction of electric current and magnetic field is given

21 1 magnetism and magnetic fields physics libretexts - Jul 05 2023

web these effects can be combined into a partial differential equation called the magnetic induction equation $\mathbf{b} \cdot \nabla \mathbf{b} = \eta \nabla^2 \mathbf{b}$ in this equation \mathbf{u} is the velocity of the fluid \mathbf{b} is the magnetic field and η is the magnetic diffusivity the first term on the right
