SKELETAL SYSTEM

The skeletal system is composed of bones, ligaments, and joints. It provides a framework for the body, supports the body, protects internal organs, stores minerals, and acts as a reservoir for calcium. Bone marrow is located in the medullary cavity of bones and in the spaces of long bones. There are two types of bone marrow: red and yellow. Red bone marrow is the site of blood cell formation, while yellow bone marrow contains adipose tissue. Bone tissue is made up of bone matrix, which is a hard, mineralized substance, and osteocytes, which are cells that maintain the bone matrix. Bone matrix is made up of collagen fibers, which are strong and flexible, and mineral salts, which are hard and brittle.
