The Psychology of Romantic Relationships Ami Rokach,Erez Zverling,Ami Sha'ked,2025-08-01 Psychology of Romantic Relationships delves into the myriad factors that contribute to successful relationships Starting with Intimacy in Romantic Relationships the book unveils new facets of the complex dynamics underpinning successful marriages From the pivotal role of communication and trust to the delicate balance of gratitude and forgiveness each chapter provides insightful knowledge to understand and enhance marital bonds Furthermore the book covers additional essential aspects such as the importance of mutual respect the role of shared activities in bonding and the impact of individual growth on relationship harmony It is a must read for psychologists therapists and anyone interested in the intricacies of love Combines theoretical insights with real world applications Reviews what constitutes a marriage including trust attitudes and control Outlines the key factors that contribute to the problems and obstacles in an intimate relationship Dating and Mating in a Techno-Driven World Rachel Hoffman,2018-01-25 Authored by a sex therapist who regularly works with clients wanting to improve their relationships this book explains how technology can create conflict or additional anxiety and discloses techniques to help individuals gain confidence or strengthen their personal relationships The statistics are telling 85 percent of all adults use the Internet 88 percent use email 91 percent own cell phones 56 percent own smartphones 73 percent send and receive text messages and 67 percent use social networking sites The advent of personal communication devices and ubiquitous connectivity has dramatically shifted the way we communicate and as a result the way we date and pursue relationships has changed The share of 18 to 24 year olds who use online dating has roughly tripled from 10 percent in 2013 to 27 percent today Modern dating techniques and technology enabled interpersonal communication have resulted in very distinct emotional side effects Dating and Mating in a Techno Driven World explores dating in our 21st century world with a unique approach providing understandable information for anyone who is dating or seeking a long term relationship while also serving as a clinical guide for therapists who want to learn how to treat individuals and especially couples presenting with some sort of issue related to technology Instead of simply offering an analysis of the trends that are occurring author Rachel Hoffman addresses the interpersonal problems and conflicts that result from digital or remote communication and courting and explains how to treat them The topics addressed include utilizing dating apps the effects of social media on relationships and how technology can be distracting in relationships Each chapter of the book supplies a case study or vignette an analysis of the situation research findings related to the topic and clinical information that identifies the implications for therapists working with individuals or couples with a similar experience The Family Systems Test \(FAST\) Thomas M. Gehring,Marianne Debry,Peter K. Smith,2013-02-01 The Family System Test FAST developed by Thomas M Gehring is an important new tool for investigating family relations Based on the structural systemic theory of families it is a figural technique for representing emotional bonds cohesion and hierarchical structures in the family or similar social systems In this unique volume the editors draw on current theory and research in family or similar social systems together with a variety of empirical studies that have used the FAST to provide a comprehensive overview and assessment of the test and its use in various clinical research contexts The book is divided into four sections each focusing on a different aspect of the FAST Part 1 describes the concepts and psychometric properties of the FAST within the context of theoretically and empirically relevant aspects of the field of family psychology as a whole Special emphasis is given to systematic structural approaches to assessing individual and family functioning Part II focuses on the use of the FAST in developmental research For example the the FAST has been used to show how family constructs are influenced by age type of family and situation Part III deals with cross cultural issues and compares the interpersonal constructs of Japanese and Chinese families to Western families Finally Part IV addresses the applications of the FAST in clinical setting in diagnosis of biopsychosocial problems and planning and evaluation of clinical interventions The result is a book that helps to bridge the gap between theory practice and research It will be essential reading for users of the FAST and all clinicians and researchers who work in family relations and development
