Advances in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning Applications for the Imaging of Bone and Soft Tissue Tumors Brandon K. K. Fields, George R. Matcuk Jr., Bino A. Varghese, 2025-01-03

Increasing interest in the development and validation of quantitative imaging biomarkers for oncologic imaging has in recent years inspired a surge in the field of artificial intelligence and machine learning. Initial results showed promise in identifying potential markers of treatment response, malignant potential, and prognostic predictors among others; however, while many of these early algorithms showed the optimistic ability to separate pathologic states on in-house datasets, it was often the case that these classifiers generalized poorly on external validation sets and thus were of limited utility in the clinical setting. This issue was additionally compounded by the frequent use of data filtering and feature selection techniques in many studies to further bolster the machine learning results in limited case scenarios, thereby biasing the overall fit and further reducing generalizability.

Fuzzy Systems Conference (FUZZ), 2000 IEEE Neural Networks Council, 2000-05. Methods in Cellular Imaging Ammasi Periasamy, 2013-05-27. Advances in technology have revolutionized the development of light microscopy techniques in biomedical research, thus improving visualization of the microstructure of cells and tissues under physiological conditions. Fluorescence microscopy methods are non-contact and non-invasive and provide high spatial and temporal resolution that other laboratory techniques cannot. This well-illustrated book targets graduate students and scientists who are new to the state-of-the-art fluorescence microscopy techniques used in biological and clinical imaging. It explains basic concepts and imaging procedures for wide-field, confocal, multiphoton excitation, fluorescence resonance energy transfer, FRET, lifetime imaging, FLIM, spectral imaging, fluorescence recovery after photobleaching, FRAP, optical tweezers total internal reflection high spatial resolution atomic force microscopy AFM and bioluminescence imaging for gene expression The usage of these techniques in various biological applications including calcium pH membrane potential mitochondrial signaling protein protein interactions under various physiological conditions and deep tissue imaging is clearly presented The authors describe the approaches to selecting epifluorescence microscopy the detectors and the image acquisition and processing software for different biological applications Step by step directions on preparing different digital formats for light microscopy images on websites are also provided Biology/science Materials Carolina Biological Supply Company,1991
