Reference and Information Services Melissa A. Wong, Laura Saunders, 2020-05-04 This revised and updated sixth edition of Reference and Information Services continues the book's rich tradition covering all phases of reference and information services with less emphasis on print and more emphasis on strategies and scenarios Reference and Information Services is the go to textbook for MSLIS and i School courses on reference services and related topics It is also a helpful handbook for practitioners Authors include LIS faculty and professionals who have relevant degrees in their areas and who have published extensively on their topics The first half of the book provides an overview of reference services and techniques for service provision including the reference interview ethics instruction reader's advisory and services to diverse populations including children This part of the book establishes a foundation of knowledge on reference service and frames each topic with ethical and social justice perspectives The second part of the book offers an overview of the information life cycle and dissemination of information followed by an in depth examination of information sources by type including dictionaries encyclopedias indexes and abstracts as well as by broad subject areas including government statistics and data health and legal information This second section introduces the tools and resources that reference professionals use to provide the services described in the first half of the text

Varieties of Resilience Jonathan Joseph, 2018-10-18 Offers the first book length comparative study of resilience examining this increasingly influential topic as it is experienced across different countries and policy sectors

The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures Daniel Nehring, Ole Jacob Madsen, Edgar Cabanas, China Mills, Dylan Kerrigan, 2020-08-24 The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures explores central lines of enquiry and seminal scholarship on therapeutic cultures popular psychology and the happiness industry Bringing together studies of therapeutic cultures from sociology anthropology psychology education politics law history social work cultural studies development studies and American Indian studies it adopts a consciously global focus combining studies of the psychologisation of social life from across the world Thematically organised it offers historical accounts of the growing prominence of therapeutic discourses and practices in everyday life before moving to consider the construction of self identity in the context of the diffusion of therapeutic discourses in connection with the global spread of capitalism With attention to the ways in which emotional language has brought new problematisations of the dichotomy between the normal and the pathological as well as significant transformations of key institutions such as work family education and religion it examines emergent trends in therapeutic culture and explores the manner in which the advent of new therapeutic technologies the political interest in happiness and the radical privatisation and financialisation of social life converge to remake self identities and modes of everyday experience Finally the volume features the work of scholars who have foregrounded the historical and contemporary implication of psychotherapeutic practices in processes of globalisation and colonial and postcolonial modes of social organisation Presenting agenda setting

research to encourage interdisciplinary and international dialogue and foster the development of a distinctive new field of social research The Routledge International Handbook of Global Therapeutic Cultures will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in the advance of therapeutic discourses and practices in an increasingly psychologised society
