

NARRATIVE WRITING

Definition:

Narrative writing is the art of telling a story through descriptive, creative language, focusing on characters, plots, and settings.

There is no good way to start this story. A friend of mine killed himself on New Year's Eve, and the question on everybody's lips, the one right after "How was your New Year's?" is "My God, what happened?" Sometimes I just tell people that a friend passed away. The delicate treatment doesn't work, though, because everyone wants to know the details, or they assume it was a car crash in some far off state or that L or B have been hanging out with an aged friend who just happened to pass on, even so gently, perhaps in a slumber lulled by me.

None of this is true. What happened was this: shortly after midnight in the dark outside a ranch party in Texas, an extraordinary and now perfect friend loaded his handgun, put it to his head and pulled the trigger. The name was Mark (he was drunk as a monkey - which he often was - after an entire bottle of brandy, and you will pulled it off. All of which is the worst thing in the world to me, to innumerable people and especially to his wife of 18 months. But it's certainly no response to someone who's inquiring about your holiday. The next question is always "Did you see it coming?" as if it were something written in the stars. There are a million lines leading to the abrupt convergence of guns and deaths, and any one of them could have been watched, given enough warning. But there was no warning.

He wasn't the only one who brought a gun to the party. I spent New Year's out West with Mark two years ago, and he, his father and his brother all brought guns to shoot off at midnight. But too much alcohol got in the way, and they never got around to it. This time, nobody got around to it, either. Except Mark.

Maybe the only sympathetic or rational answer is that it was an accident. I'm not hopeful enough to think he was aiming for the sky. I think his aim, at least, was intentional. But it wasn't suicide either. I try to explain this to people, nobody gets it. The pieces fit together like a suicide, but I don't think he grasps that meaning and thoughts, that's how it's going to end.

A few years ago, I climbed out my 20th-floor bedroom window and hung there while my roommates were partying in the next room. I might have been drinking heavily, I don't remember. I had all the things that cause a rise in the depressive personality: no money, no lover, a childhood job cruelly draining my youth. So out the window I went. I didn't plan it. I didn't even look down. Hanging high above the F.D.R. Drive in my underwear, I thought, so that's what this is like. I certainly didn't think it's all over when I let go. After 30 seconds or so, I got tired, so I kicked my leg up and got back into bed. That's kind of how it went with me back then. Not the ugly, desperate, hanging-out-of-windows thing, but the I wonder what happens when I do this thing.
