Missing Persons in Australia Marianne Pinkerton James, Jessica Anderson, Judy Putt, 2008-01-01 Missing persons in Australia is a complex field with no single service responsible for investigations and support for those affected While the coordination shared by police and nongovernment agencies is crucial in responding to cases limitations in collecting and recording data hamper a complete understanding of risk factors that can inform good practice These limitations are evident at the national level where knowledge of the characteristics and patterns of missing persons is scant Certain groups in the community and individual factors contribute to the risk of people going missing This information is necessary to develop strategies that focus on improving preventative measures early intervention support services and referral mechanisms This report updates existing data on missing persons across Australia in 2005 06 to identify at risk groups It presents information on good practice from preventative to support measures and outlines policies practice and research directions A current snapshot of missing persons is shown by national estimates demographic characteristics and reporting Family dysfunction and psychological reasons for going missing are complemented by details on searching support counselling services and intervention prevention practices Improving data quality risk assessment procedures specialised training and education of all stakeholders and inter agency coordination are key priorities Australian Policing Philip Birch, Michael Kennedy, Erin Kruger, 2020-11-29 This edited collection brings together leading academics researchers and police personnel to provide a comprehensive body of literature that informs Australian police education training research policy and practice There is a strong history and growth in police education both in Australia and globally Recognising and reflecting on the Australian and New Zealand Policing Advisory Agency ANZPAA education and training framework the range of chapters within the book address a range of 21st century issues modern police forces face This book discusses four key themes Education training and professional practice topics include police education ethics wellbeing and leadership Organisational approaches and techniques topics include police discretion use of force investigative interviewing and forensic science Operational practices and procedures topics include police and the media emergency management cybercrime terrorism and community management Working with individuals and groups topics include mental health Indigenous communities young people hate crime domestic violence and working with victims Australian Policing Critical Issues in 21st Century Police Practice draws together theoretical and practice debates to ensure this book will be of interest to those who want to join the police those who are currently training to become a police officer and those who are currently serving This book is essential reading for all students scholars and researchers engaged with policing and the criminal justice sector

The Bodies In Barrel Murders Jeremy Pudney, 2006-02 When bodies were discovered hidden in barrels in 1999 in South Australia Jeremy Pudney was one of the first journalists to cover the case that stunned the entire world In this authoritative and darkly compelling book he pieces together the complete story of the Snowtown murders Missing

Persons in Australia Marianne James, Jessica Anderson, 2008-03 Investigating missing persons cases is a complex field There is no single service responsible for the investigation or the provision of support to those who are found or to the family and friends of missing persons Police services across Australia play a crucial role in responding to reports of missing people complemented by non government search agencies such as The Salvation Army and the Australian Red Cross Since national research on missing persons was conducted ten years ago there have been a range of initiatives to improve the response to reports of missing people particularly in the promotion of a national approach However police data suggest there may be more people going missing than ever before but until there are better data this cannot be clarified with any confidence Similarly risk factors amongst different groups of missing persons cannot be properly identified The potential role of the non government sector to assist searches and prevent people from going missing seems unfulfilled largely due to poor levels of awareness and lack of resources This paper summarises key findings from a recent national project that builds on the earlier work by updating information on recorded incidents and by focusing on current responses and potential preventive measures The specific objectives of the research project were to update existing data on missing persons from all Australian state and territory sources with a view to identifying at risk groups identify good practice in relation to preventative measures early intervention support services and referral mechanisms develop a more networked approach to policy and practice and identify and establish a solid base for future research The paper identifies key priorities for further development to improve practices related to reducing the incidence of missing persons and the provision of services
