Mildred Pierce English Edition:

The Cinematic Novel and Postmodern Pop Fiction Décio Torres Cruz, 2019-12-05 Décio Torres Cruz approaches connections between literature and cinema partly through issues of gender and identity and partly through issues of reality and representation. In doing so, he looks at the various ways in which people have thought of the so-called cinematic novel, tracing the development of that genre concept not only in the French cinéroman and film scenarios but also in novels from the United States, England, France, and Latin America. The main tendency he identifies is the blending of the cinematic novel with pop literature through allusions to Pop Art and other postmodern cultural trends. His prime exhibits are a number of novels by the Argentinian writer Manuel Puig: Betrayed, by Rita Hayworth, Heartbreak Tango, The Buenos Aires Affair, Kiss of the Spider Woman, and Pubis angelical. Bringing in suggestive sociocultural and psychoanalytical considerations, Cruz shows how in Puig's hands the cinematic novel resulted in a pop collage of different texts, films, discourses, and narrative devices which fused reality and imagination into dream and desire.

The Scandals of Translation Lawrence Venuti, 2002-09-11 Translation is stigmatized as a form of writing discouraged by copyright law, deprecated by the academy, exploited by publishers and corporations, governments, and religious organizations. Lawrence Venuti exposes what he refers to as the scandals of translation by looking at the relationship between translation and those bodies: corporations, governments, religious organizations, publishers who need the work of the translator yet marginalize it when it threatens their cultural values. Venuti illustrates his arguments with a wealth of translations from The Bible, the works of Homer, Plato, and Wittgenstein, Japanese and West African novels, advertisements, and business journalism.

Mildred Pierce James M. Cain, 2010-12-29 In Mildred Pierce noir master James M Cain creates a novel of acute social observation and devastating emotional violence with a heroine whose ambitions and sufferings are never less than recognizable Mildred Pierce had gorgeous legs a way with a skillet and a bone deep core of toughness She used those attributes to survive a divorce and poverty and to claw her way out of the lower middle class But Mildred also had two weaknesses a yen for shiftless men and an unreasoning devotion to a monstrous daughter

Cinema and Spectatorship Judith Mayne, 2002-09-11 Cinema and Spectatorship is the first book to focus entirely on the history and role of the spectator in contemporary film studies While 1970s film theory insisted on a distinction between the cinematic subject and film goers Judith Mayne suggests that a very real friction between subjects and viewers is in fact central to the study of spectatorship In the book's first section Mayne examines three theoretical models of spectatorship the perceptual the institutional and the historical while the second section focuses on case studies which crystallize many of the issues already discussed concentrating on textual analysis the disrupting genre star gazing and finally the audience itself Case studies include the place of the spectator in the textual analysis of individual films such as The Picture of Dorian Gray the construction of Bette Davis star persona fantasies of race and film viewing in Field of Dreams and Ghost and gay and lesbian audiences as critical audiences The book provides a very thorough and accessible overview of this complex fragmented and often controversial area of film theory

Cinema, State Socialism and Society in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe, 1917-1989 Sanja Bahun, John Haynes, 2014-07-25 This book presents a comprehensive re examination of the cinemas of the Soviet Union and Central and Eastern Europe during the communist era It argues that since the end of communism in these countries film scholars are able to view these cinemas in a different way no longer bound by an outlook relying on binary Cold War terms With the opening of archives in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union much more is known about these states and societies at the same time the field has been reinvigorated by its opening up to more contemporary concepts themes and approaches in film studies and adjacent disciplines Taking stock of these developments this book presents a rich varied tapestry relating specific films to specific national and transnational circumstances rather than viewing them as a single monolithic Cold War Communist cinema
