Makerere University Postgraduate Admissions 2015:

Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings Atibuni, Dennis Zami, 2019-09-27 The general academic progression and particularly research engagement of postgraduate students is characterized by various problems such as high dropout rates longer completion times low graduation rates and high repetition or retake rates This means that there are far fewer students pursuing postgraduate studies at tertiary institutions and universities than there are at the lower levels of education Yet there is growing demand for postgraduate education given its strong projected association with socioeconomic transformation at national and international levels among developed and developing countries alike

Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings sets out to garner strategies for fostering efficiency of research conduct among the students and faculty so as to enhance high quality output for the envisaged personal societal national and international socioeconomic transformation Covering a range of topics such as intellectual property mental health and quality assurance this book is ideal for research supervisors higher education faculty librarians educators administrators researchers academicians and students

Intra-Africa Student Mobility in Higher Education Chika Trevor Sehoole, Jenny J. Lee, 2022-01-01 This book examines student mobility within Africa International student mobility is among the central activities of higher education internationalization As the number of international students increase so do the destinations in both number and geographic diversity Historically international student mobility has followed South North and North North patterns However recent literature show the growth in North South and South South patterns of student mobility There has also been a rise in regional mobility In what is referred to in the book as intra Africa mobility the book explores and analyzes the patterns of intra Africa mobility based on seven African countries South Africa Kenya Uganda Nigeria Ghana Senegal and Egypt The editors and contributors address three central research questions Why did the students choose the country they are studying in Why did they choose the institution they are studying in What are their academic and social experiences in these countries and their respective institutions This book is the first comprehensive exploration of intra Africa student mobility in a field that traditionally centers on the Global North

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

North-South Knowledge Networks Towards Equitable Collaboration Between Tor Halvorsen, Jorun Nossun, 2017-02-23 Since the 1990s internationalisation has become key for institutions wishing to secure funding for higher education and research For the academic community this strategic shift has had many consequences Priorities have changed and been influenced by new ways of thinking about universities and of measuring their impact in relation to each other and to their social goals Debates are ongoing and hotly contested In this collection a mix of renowned academics and newer voices reflect on some of the realities of international research partnerships They both question and highlight the agency of academics donors and research institutions in the geopolitics of knowledge and power The contributors offer fresh insights on institutional transformation the setting of research agendas and access to research funding while highlighting the dilemmas researchers face when their institutions are vulnerable to state and donor influence Offering a range of perspectives on why academics should collaborate and what for this book will be useful to anyone interested in how scholars are adapting to the realities of international networking and how research institutions are finding innovative ways to make NorthSouth partnerships and collaborations increasingly fair sustainable and mutually beneficial
