Industrial & Mining Standard, 1907      Mines and Minerals, 1902      The Influence of Technology on Social Network Analysis and Mining Tansel Özyer, Jon Rokne, Gerhard Wagner, Arno H.P. Reuser, 2013-03-15 The study of social networks was originated in social and business communities. In recent years, social network research has advanced significantly; the development of sophisticated techniques for Social Network Analysis and Mining (SNAM) has been highly influenced by the online social Web sites, email logs, phone logs, and instant messaging systems, which are widely analyzed using graph theory and machine learning techniques. People perceive the Web increasingly as a social medium that fosters interaction among people sharing of experiences and knowledge, group activities, community formation, and evolution. This has led to a rising prominence of SNAM in academia, politics, homeland security, and business. This follows the pattern of known entities of our society that have evolved into networks in which actors are increasingly dependent on their structural embedding. General areas of interest to the book include information science and mathematics, communication studies, business and organizational studies, sociology, psychology, anthropology, applied linguistics, biology, and medicine.

The Mining Journal, Railway and Commercial Gazette, 1896      Seeing Red Mark Cronlund Anderson, Carmen L. Robertson, 2011-09-02 The first book to examine the role of Canada's newspapers in perpetuating the myth of Native inferiority, Seeing Red is a groundbreaking study of how Canadian English language newspapers have portrayed Aboriginal peoples from 1869 to the present day. It assesses a wide range of publications on topics that include the sale of Rupert's Land, the signing of Treaty 3, the North West Rebellion, and Louis Riel; the death of Pauline Johnson; the outing of Grey Owl; the discussions surrounding Bill C-31; the Banded Elbow standoff at Kenora, Ontario; and the Oka Crisis. The authors uncover overwhelming evidence that the colonial imaginary not only thrives but dominates depictions of Aboriginal peoples in mainstream newspapers. The colonial constructs ingrained in the news media perpetuate an imagined Native inferiority that contributes significantly to the marginalization of Indigenous people in Canada. That such imagery persists to this day suggests strongly that our country lives in denial, failing to live up to its cultural mosaic boosterism.
