Marlene Dumas Against The Wall:

Marlene Dumas: Against the Wall Marlene Dumas, 2014-11-30 Described by Deborah Solomon in a New York Times profile as one of contemporary art's most compelling painters Marlene Dumas has continuously explored the complex range of human emotions often probing questions of gender race sexuality and economic inequality through her dramatic and at times haunting figural compositions Originally published in 2010 on the occasion of Against the Wall Dumas's first solo presentation at David Zwirner in New York this much sought after exhibition catalogue which sold out shortly after publication has been reprinted to coincide with the artist's 2014-2015 European retrospective exhibition The Image as Burden organized by Tate Modern London in collaboration with the Stedelijk Museum Amsterdam and the Fondation Beyeler Basel Throughout her career the internationally renowned artist has continually created lyrically charged compositions that eulogize the frailties of the human body probing issues of love and melancholy At times her subjects are more topical merging socio-political themes with personal experience and art historical antecedents to reflect unique perspectives on the most salient and controversial issues facing contemporary society The large scale works included in Against the Wall are primarily based on media imagery and newspaper clippings documenting the conflict between Israel and Palestine exploring the tension between the photographic documentation of reality and the constructed imaginary space of painting The Wall the painting that began the series at first appears to present a scene at the Western Wall also known as the Wailing Wall an important site of religious pilgrimage located in Jerusalem However this work is based upon a photograph from a newspaper that portrayed a group of Orthodox Jews on their way to pray at Rachel's Tomb in Bethlehem Through her delicate treatment of every scene Dumas destabilizes preconceived notions about what in fact is being pictured engaging the often ambiguous nature of ideas like truth or justice In a sense they are my first landscape paintings Dumas further notes in the catalogue or should I say territory paintings That is why they are so big The somber color plates reproduced in the publication are given context by Dumas's own musings a text framed as a letter to David Zwirner in which she tries to tell him about the why of this powerful series

David Zwirner: 25 Years Richard Shiff, Robert Storr, 2018-10-23 Published on the occasion of the twenty five year anniversary of David Zwirner this book paints a picture of the gallery's growth and development through the lens of the artists that have shaped it Since its founding in 1993 David Zwirner has above all else been guided by its artist centric ethos Beginning with the gallery's early days on Greens Street in SoHo to its transition and expansion to Chelsea London the Upper East Side and Hong Kong this book captures David Zwirner's devotion to its inimitable roster of artists and estates The heart of the publication is a wide ranging dynamic selection of the gallery's standout exhibitions in many cases handpicked by David Zwirner himself Many of these exhibitions highlight the countless works that ended up in major museum and private collections around the world Also featured is an extensive gallery history that details all of the exhibitions by every artist and estate presented at David Zwirner accompanied by archival imagery With contributions by Richard Shiff and Robert Storr as well as a foreword by David Zwirner this publication offers rare insights into the growth of a commercial gallery through its long term commitment to artists Border Wall Aesthetics Elisa Ganivet, 2019-09-24 30 years after the fall of the Berlin Wall we live in a time of globalization and free trade Nevertheless 70 new border walls have been built in this period put together they would cover the total circumference of the Earth While governments offer manifold justifications for building these separation barriers they invariably attract the attention of artists Is it merely the lure of transgression however that attracts them or is there a deeper significance in the artistic encounter with border walls And which artistic strategies do these artists employ to approach them In order to address these questions Lisa Ganivet revisits the history of border wall aesthetics and compares more recent border related works by 100 artists including Joseph Beuys Berlin Banksy Israel Palestine and Frida Kahlo Mexico US Through art and thus beyond art we understand the flaws and shortcomings of supposedly well oiled systems With a preface by Elisabeth Vallet Magdalena Abakanowicz. Human Nature Els Hoek, Helmi van Limpt, Mary-Jane Jacobs, 2025-12-10 Magdalena Abakanowicz 1930 2017 is known for her iconic installations that explored the relationship between humanity and nature as well as the strength of the collective versus the individual Today the power of her art like predilections from the past are rivetingly real This publication offers rich intellectual insight into the relevance of this Polish artist to the threatened present a time in which geopolitical shifts between East and West and predictions of the Club of Rome 1972 and climate scientists are becoming a worldwide reality And here Abakanowicz's vision on nature and the human condition is explored in a uniquely inspired way by engaging seven artists collaboratives to reflect in deeply personal ways on their art through dialogues with historians philosophers and other thinkers This counterpoint launches discussion around the human condition in a post humanist time collective identity trauma climate change unending destruction of the planet and more Finally the uncommon approach of this show and book demonstrates how the elder artist's art and life is a lens through which not only these artists but we can reconsider our place in the world Magdalena Abakanowicz 1930 2017 is known for her iconic installations that explored the relationship between humanity and nature as well as the strength of the collective versus the individual Today the power of her art like predilections from the past are rivetingly real Art in Mind Ernst van Alphen, 2005-03-10 Art has the power to affect our thinking changing not only the way we view and interact with the world but also how we create it Art can be
