organisent autour de thèmes stratégiques dont certains feront l'objet d'une publication dans les prochains Cahiers de Prospective. Le contexte politico-institutionnel et son évolution en fonction des expériences étrangères de l'internationalisation des nouvelles idées économiques. La construction européenne et les liens avec les autres lecteurs européens. Le ralentissement de la croissance de la production d'électricité et les nouvelles stratégies d'investissement. Les nouvelles technologies de production de restructuration des industries nucléaires. Les nouvelles exigences des publics en matière de qualité de l'environnement. L'adaptation du management des personnes, des relations sociales. EDF s'interroge de manière renouvelée sur la question de sa dimension citoyenne au regard des difficultés croissantes d'une partie de la population. De manière générale, cette citoyenneté pousse à réfléchir l'utilité sociale d'une entreprise de service public qui est questionnée dans nombre de quartiers en difficulté, ce qui conduit à poser justement la question du devenir de la ville. Si une entreprise comme EDF entreprend une démarche prospective sur la ville, c'est parce qu'aujourd'hui en France, c'est le symbole même de la société avec ses forces, ses valeurs et aussi ses handicaps terribles. L'originalité du travail du groupe de la prospective a été d'imaginer trois modèles d'évolution urbaine et d'intégrer EDF dans cette perspective. Trois scénarios ont été élaborés : Mercalex, la loi du marché ou la ville comme outil de développement économique ; Civitas, le retour aux sources ou la ville citoyenne ; Exurbia, le rêve technologique ou la ville dissimulée. Ce cahier de prospective tente in fine de livrer une vision de la ville mancipée de la stricte optique productiviste pour laisser place aux réflexions sur les devoirs de l'entreprise envers la société. Pierre Gabe, ancien élève de l'école Polytechnique, est directeur exécutif EDF GDF Services. Il est également l'initiateur et le chef de la Mission Solidarité d'EDF et GDF.
