Manitoba Crown Corporations Council Annual Report:

Corporate Autonomy and Institutional Control Douglas F. Stevens, 1993-06-14 Stevens examines institutional frameworks for Crown corporations in Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba between the early 1970s and the mid 1980s showing how each framework establishes different practices and offers distinct strategic advantages Organizational approaches in Alberta most closely approximated what the author calls a self contained design in which corporate actors had the advantage and were most able to achieve their own objectives In Manitoba where vertical information systems prevailed central bureaucratic monitoring agents tended to some extent to wield influence over the corporations Saskatchewan practice was akin to a lateral relations pattern with an equilibrium between corporate and bureaucratic goals Stevens s comparison of Crown corporation organization designs suggests that while no one form is inherently more efficient than another each leads to qualitatively different outcomes He concludes that the most important issue in problems of organization design is who is winning the Crown corporation game a finding of considerable interest to all students of government enterprise Canadiana ,1991 Microlog, Canadian Research Index ,1994 New Serial Titles ,1992 Government Reports Annual Index ,1991 Government Reports Announcements & Index ,1993 Canadian Catalogue of Books Willet Ricketson Haight,1896 Energy Research Abstracts ,1990 Workmen's Insurance and Compensation Series United States.
