Required Tools for Movement Installation and Adjustment:
Small Needle Nose Pliers Tape Measure
Phillips/Regular (Blade) Head Screwdriver

Movement/Chime Mounting: When you are ready to mount the movement, take a moment to tighten all of the nuts that secure the four movement mounting brackets to each corner (on the front surface of the movement).

The 8130SI movement will need to be attached to a piece of wood commonly called a dial board. Generally the dial board will given the inside length and width of the clock, and have a thickness of ½" (maximum 5/32"). The dial board will require a cut-out/thru hole for the center shaft and each key-wind arbor post, as well as a slot to accommodate the silence lever (see Illustration 2). You will find a single sheet instruction (130dial) enclosed with your movement. Not these will have recommended inside clock case dimensions as well as a dimensioned diagram for the center shaft and key-wind arbor holes).

The dial, or clock face, would mount to the front surface of the dial board. Once the dial has been mounted, slide the chime lever extension over the silence lever of the movement. Do not tighten the screw at this time. Next, you may secure the movement to the backside of the dial board (inside the clock case) with the 8 mounting screws included. When mounting the movement, use the dial arbor guides (enclosed with the movement) to ensure that the center shaft and key-wind arbors align with the corresponding holes in the dial. Also, make certain the silence lever extension is inserted through the silence slot of the dial. Please note that the movement mounting brackets can be rotated as needed by simply loosening the nuts on the front plate of the movement. Once the movement has been secured, you may tighten the screw on the silence lever extension.

When mounting the chime rod assembly, you will want to make certain that the hammers are positioned so that they will strike the chime rods about 1" from the coiling block where the chime rods are secured (see Illustration 3). You may mount the chime rods directly to the inside bottom plate, however you can also use a mounting block if you should require less gap between the hammer heads and rods. Generally, a 1/16" gap is recommended (starting point for hammer/rod gap (see Illustration 4 – letter C). Further adjustments to improve sound quality will be made to each hammer in a later step).

Mounting Hands/Synchronizing Time and Chimes: Begin by taking a moment to wind all three key-wind arbors. Your movement facilitates an automatic stop mechanism when winding, so each arbor cannot be over-wound. Generally the right key-wind (as you face the front of the assembly) is the best place to begin winding. This winds the main melody chime (gong) and tends to be the hardest of the three to wind. Wind each key-wind until the auto-stop mechanism is engaged.

Temporarily place the minute hand over the square portion of the hand shaft (where it points to a reat depression at the time). Move the silence lever (located on the left as you face the front of the movement – see illustration 2) up to the "chime" position.

Gently rotate the hand clockwise until you hear a "click" sound. IMPORTANT: If the movement should chime, allow the movement to completely chime (including the hour chime) before rotating the hand once more. Continue to rotate the minute hand up to 1 full rotation (stopping at every 15-minute interval to allow the movement to chime) until
