June Grade 1 exemplar 2014 Geography:

Sociocultural Perspectives on Youth Ethical Consumerism Giuliano Reis, Michael Mueller, Rachel Gisewhite, Luiz Siveres, Renato Brito, 2017-11-07 This exciting new book advances current practice based and theoretical knowledge around how youth defines and engages with consumerism to provoke a larger conversation within science and environmental education. It is also geared towards unveiling those literacy praxes that can assist youth to adopt more ethically oriented consumerist habits. More specifically, this book studies how youth's participation in the global consumer market intersects with media technologies, new literacies, as well as science and the environment from sociocultural perspectives. In addition, it considers how school science has mediated youth participation in hyper consumerism from food and technology to shelter and transportation. This important and timely book is a must read for those interested in topics such as critical youth studies, critical media literacy, STEM arts based research, STSE education, citizenship education, cultural studies, policy studies, curriculum studies, socio scientific issues, technology sustainability, food studies, social justice, poverty and consumer behaviour. A wide range of science, technology and environmental educators from Australia, Brazil, Canada, Netherlands and the United States have combined their perspectives to produce this exciting, innovative, timely and important book. It should be essential reading for all teachers, teacher educators and curriculum developers keen to address key issues raised by a commitment to assist students in refining their understanding of what constitutes socially, culturally, ethically and politically responsible consumer practices and supporting them in formulating and engaging in effective individual and collective action. Derek Hodson, Emeritus Professor of Science Education, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE), University of Toronto; Professor of Science Education at The University of Auckland, New Zealand and Founding Editor of the Canadian Journal of Science, Mathematics and Technology Education (CJSMT). The authors in the book deconstruct and analyse intricate economic, sociopolitical and affective networks that are behind the cycles of production, distribution and consumption of objects that are present in youngsters' daily lives and their attitudes towards them. Apart from breaking new ground by proposing and discussing socioculturally informed research about the topic, the book connects with pedagogical approaches that value critical perspectives on the nature of the relationship between science, technology, society and environment. It is a must read for both researchers and practitioners interested in issues related to sustainability and citizenship education. Isabel Martins, Professor of Science Education, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro (UFRJ).

24-Hour Cities Hugh F. Kelly, 2016-07-15 Winner of the Gold Award in the Tenth Annual Robert Bruss Real Estate Book Competition. 24 Hour Cities is the very first full length book about America's cities that never sleep. Over the last fifty years, the nation's top live/work/play cities have proven themselves more than just vibrant urban environments for the elite. They are attracting a cross section of the population from across the U.S. and are preferred destinations for immigrants of all income strata. This is creating a virtuous circle wherein economic growth enhances property values, stronger real estate markets sustain more reliable tax bases and solid municipal revenues pay for better services that further attract businesses and talented individuals Yet just a generation ago cities like New York Boston Washington San Francisco and Miami were broke financially and physically scarred by violence and prime examples of urban dysfunction How did the turnaround happen And why are other cities still stuck with the hollow downtowns and sprawling suburbs that make for a 9 to 5 urban configuration Hugh Kelly s cross disciplinary research identifies the ingredients of success and the recipe that puts them together OECD Reviews of Evaluation and Assessment in Education: Serbia Maghnouj Soumaya, Salinas Daniel, Kitchen Hannah, Guthrie Caitlyn, Bethell George, Fordham Elizabeth, 2020-03-20 This review developed in cooperation with UNICEF provides Serbia with recommendations to help strengthen its evaluation and assessment system to focus on support for student learning It will be of interest to Serbia as well as other countries looking to make more effective use of their evaluation and assessment system to improve quality and equity and result in better outcomes for all students
