Other Roads Less Traveled Charles Shannon Mallory, 2014-02-20 In a provocative manner Bishop Mallory crosses boundaries of orthodoxy and raises some issues not commonly discussed such as a possible Christian approach to reincarnation betrayal as a normal part of life the common thread in all religions praying for ones enemies by name and not believing everything you think In Other Roads Less Traveled he presents a collection of sermons and meditations that ask and answer a wide range of questions Who is God to you What happens when we die Whats the meaning of life Whats the value of prayer Whats the good of other world religions like Judaism Islam Hinduism Taoism and Buddhism How do we fight a war on terrorism Practical and down to earth Other Roads Less Traveled is a compilation of work derived from fifty years in the ministry It reflects Dr Mallorys experiences living and working in more than a dozen third world countries including eighteen years in Africa where he and his family lived under the apartheid regime of South Africa and the deadly reign of Idi Amin in Uganda With the overarching theme of truth and justice Mallorys messages gather together his many experiences of a worldwide ministry

The Voice of Chorus America, 2006 BBC Music Magazine, 2005 The Gramophone, 2006 Organists' Review, 2008 Gramophone, 2008 The British Catalogue of Music, 1997 A Looking-glass for Ladies Lisa Joy Pruitt, 2005 Lisa Joy Pruitt offers a new look at women s involvement in the mission movement with a welcome focus on the often overlooked antebellum era Most scholars have argued that the emergence of women as a dominant force in American Protestant missions in the late nineteenth century was an outgrowth of nascent feminist activism in the various denominations This new contribution suggests that the feminization of the later mission movement actually stemmed in large part from images of the degraded Oriental woman that popular evangelical literature had been circulating since the 1790s and that the increasing focus on and involvement of women was supported by male denominational leaders as an important strategy for reaching the world with the Christian gospel In the late eighteenth through the early nineteenth centuries popular evangelical literature began circulating descriptions of women of the Orient designed to illustrate the need of those women for the Christian gospel Such powerful and widely disseminated images demonstrated to young American women their relatively privileged position in society and throughout the nineteenth century led many to support the cause of missions with their money and sometimes their lives A belief in the desperate need of Oriental women for salvation and social uplift was largely responsible for feminizing the American Protestant foreign mission movement A Looking Glass for Ladies American Protestant Women and the Orient in the Nineteenth Century traces the creation and dissemination of images of women who lived in that part of the world known to nineteenth century Westerners as the Orient It examines the emotional power of those images to create sympathy in American women for their sisters in Asia That sympathy catalyzed many evangelical women and men to argue for vocational roles for women both married and single in the mission movement The book demonstrates the ways in which assumptions about the condition and needs of Oriental women shaped American evangelical women's self-perceptions as well as the evangelizing strategies of the missionaries and their sending agencies

Fragile Mystics Magdalen Smith, 2015-11-19

Fragile Mystics reworks traditional concepts of prayer and gives them a contemporary spin Like Steel Angels it draws on the author's own experience as a Christian priest and offers illustrations from the world of visual arts, film and contemporary culture It includes some biblical examples and connects present day yearnings and wrestlings as a person who wants to pray better with those of the mystics and holy people from the Christian past It is about reclaiming and transforming our inner spaces so that we have a renewed and hopeful approach to life and ministry Each chapter has a short sharp contemporary title with a further subtitle to unpack the content and ends with ideas for both individuals and leaders on how to put the concept under discussion into practice
