Report to the Nation

2006 - 2009

Knowledge is the power that empowers the individual and the nation. It is the foundation of progress and the key to sustainable development. The National Knowledge Commission (NKC) was established to study and recommend measures for the development of knowledge infrastructure and the promotion of knowledge-based growth in India. The Commission's report, 'Report to the Nation 2006-2009', outlines the Commission's findings and recommendations on the following issues:

- 1. Knowledge Infrastructure: The Commission has identified the need for a robust knowledge infrastructure that includes libraries, museums, archives, and digital repositories. It has recommended the establishment of a National Knowledge Infrastructure (NKI) to provide access to knowledge resources across the country.
- 2. Knowledge Management: The Commission has emphasized the importance of knowledge management in organizations and the need for the development of knowledge management systems and practices.
- 3. Knowledge Economy: The Commission has highlighted the role of knowledge in the economy and the need for the development of knowledge-based industries and sectors.
- 4. Knowledge Society: The Commission has discussed the concept of a knowledge society and the need for the development of knowledge-based human resources and institutions.
- 5. Knowledge Policy: The Commission has recommended the formulation of a national knowledge policy to guide the development of knowledge infrastructure and the promotion of knowledge-based growth.
