The New Orientalists Ian Almond,2007-07-20 The west s Orientalism its construction of an Arab or Islamic Other has been exposed and examined under the critical theory microscope and thoroughly expelled it seems from academic thought At the same time postmodern thinkers from Nietzsche onwards have employed the motifs and symbols of the Islamic Orient within an ongoing critique of western modernity an appropriation which this hugely controversial book argues runs every risk of becoming a new and more insidious Orientalist strain Ian Almond sensitively yet rigorously examines the work of Nietzsche Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Jean Baudrillard Julia Kristeva and Slavoj Zizek as well as that of postmodern writers Jorge Luis Borges Salman Rushdie and Orhan Pamuk In doing so he exposes the implications of this use of Islam for both the postmodern project and for Islam itself Taking apart the assumptions omissions and contradictions inherent in these thinkers approaches to Islam and to the Arab world and drawing on the work of prominent Muslim thinkers including Ziauddin Sardar Aziz Al Azmeh and Bobby S Sayyid The New Orientalists highlights the difficulty of ever speaking truly about the Other In light of the current Western climate of fear and hysteria surrounding the Islamic world this groundbreaking project could hardly be more timely

Premises and Problems Luiza Franco Moreira, 2021-05-01 World literature many have stressed is a systematic category Both literary scholars and social scientists have argued that the prestige of the major literary languages is key to establishing the shape of the overall system In order to critically interrogate world literature and cinema Premises and Problems approaches this system from the perspective of languages and film traditions that do not hold a hegemonic position This perspective raises new questions about the nature of literary hegemony and the structure of world literature How is hegemony established What are the costs of losing it What does hegemony mask How is it masked The contributors focus predominantly on literatures outside the small circle of prestigious modern European languages and on films and film criticism produced outside the best known centers The inclusion of this unfamiliar material calls attention to some areas of obscurity that make key features of the system indistinct or that make it difficult to trace relationships between texts that hold different levels of prestige such as those of the Global North and the Global South The book argues that the study of world literature and cinema will profit from a sustained and informed engagement with the body of work produced by historical social scientists committed to the perspective of the world system      Havâss Dergisi - I.
