A blue pickup truck is driving on a dirt road at night. The truck's headlights are on, illuminating the path ahead. In the background, there are dark, silhouetted mountains under a dark sky. A bright lightning bolt strikes the sky above the mountains. The overall scene is dramatic and atmospheric.

The Making of a Collection Minneapolis Institute of Arts, Carroll T. Hartwell, 1984 In the mid 1960s The Minneapolis Institute of Arts was in the vanguard of museums that recognized the importance of photography as a fine art an art that demanded to be collected and exhibited for a wider audience While major institutions such as The Museum of Modern Art and the Art Institute of Chicago had created formidable photography collections and exhibition programs few other smaller institutions had followed their lead The Minneapolis Institute of Arts was an exception Its decisive turn in 1964 toward establishing a permanent place for photography was a major shift that reflected the changing position that photography held in the inner sanctum of museum art For a relatively young medium with no real history beginning a collection was in part contributing to its evolving history Entrusted to the supervision of a young then untried curator Carroll T Hartwell the museum began to acquire photographs that in the aggregate would reflect both photography s greatest traditions as embodied in the pioneering works of Frederick H Evans Hill and Adamson and Julia Margaret Cameron its modern giants of this century including Walker Evans Robert Frank and Lee Friedlander and its boldest forays as revealed in the works of the contemporary photographers Reed Estabrook Frank Gohlke Marsha Burns Nicholas Nixon William Eggleston and many others Minneapolis s attention to current photographers is dramatically reflected in this volume While the significance of the medium s traditions has always been a recurrent thread through the collection its broader character reflects a modern sensibility that refers to the distinct aesthetic character and value of picture making the camera and camera vision The Making of a Collection documents the creation of a truly remarkable collection of photographs and the simultaneous development of the curatorial mind and eye Amazon com A Genealogical and Heraldic History of the Landed Gentry of Great Britain Sir Bernard Burke, 1914 Canadian Literary Periodicals Index , 1998 A genealogical and heraldic history of the landed gentry of Great Britain & Ireland John Bernard Burke, Sir Bernard Burke, 1898 Bookseller , 1873 Vols for 1871 76 1913 14 include an extra number The Christmas bookseller separately paged and not included in the consecutive numbering of the regular series The Reformatory Press Iowa.
