The Guardian Index ,2002      Harvard Business Studies Clarence Bertrand Thompson,1917      In the Know Russell T. Warne,2020-10-29 Emotional intelligence is an important trait for success at work IQ tests are biased against minorities Every child is gifted Preschool makes children smarter Western understandings of intelligence are inappropriate for other cultures These are some of the statements about intelligence that are common in the media and in popular culture But none of them are true In the Know is a tour of the most common incorrect beliefs about intelligence and IQ Written in a fantastically engaging way each chapter is dedicated to correcting a misconception and explains the real science behind intelligence Controversies related to IQ will wither away in the face of the facts leaving readers with a clear understanding about the truth of intelligence      Environmental Advertising in China and the USA Xinghua Li,2016-05-05 Since the late 1980s green consumerism has been hailed in the West as an efficient solution to environmental problems However Chinese consumers have been slow to warm up to eco friendly products Consumers prefer SUVs to hybrid cars health supplements and snake oil medicines to organic foods and eco fashion is still secluded in high end designer studios These choices contradict the findings of many sustainable lifestyle surveys that claim to register a rising desire for green products among the Chinese This book examines the psycho cultural differences that disrupt the translation of eco friendly appeals to China by analyzing environmental advertising It explores the different notions of green the structures of desire that underlies the advertisements and how they are shaped by ideological cultural and historical differences Rather than arguing the superiority of the American or Chinese version of green consumerism the book interrogates the role of advertising in the global spread of Western ideologies and explores the possibilities for consumers to resist transnational corporate hegemony in the green movement This book fills an important gap in the critical scholarship on green marketing and should be of interest to students and scholars of environment studies green advertising and marketing environmental communication and media studies China studies and environmental sociology ethics and cultural studies      Managing in Complexity Sara Filbee,2023-12-22 Challenging traditional ways of thinking leading and managing based on cutting edge research and real world examples this book provides an insightful and accessible perspective for leaders and managers in the 21st century who seek to become more effective in an increasingly uncertain and complex world which limits their ability to get results Just how significant this is has become all too evident in the Covid 19 pandemic Many books have been written to address these leadership and management challenges but they are based on the premise that there are ways to simplify organise and control what is going on in the workplace In our complex world this is not possible and there are no magic tools and techniques that will ensure success This book explains why and offers an alternative approach incorporating social theory and the sciences of uncertainty written in plain English by a leader with over 40 years of experience in the private not for profit and federal government sectors Each chapter focuses on a single key concept and is introduced by a story illustrating how these key ideas can be applied in the workplace and includes practical suggestions for leaders and managers at all levels and across sectors to incorporate these perspectives into their day to day work practice making it easy for readers to use the book as a reference guide All who manage in complex times and uncertain environments will appreciate this accessible and actionable book that will inspire a radical rethink of current management orthodoxy and help them to become more effective
