Media Planning Guide Malaysia 2013:

Malaysian Politics in the New Media Age Pauline Pooi Yin Leong, 2019-08-21 This book provides a comprehensive overview of the impact of the Internet on Malaysian politics and how it has played a pivotal role in influencing the country's political climate. It lays out the background of Malaysia's political history and media environment and addresses the ramifications of mediaisation for the political process including political public relations, advertising and online campaigns. The book examines the Internet's transformative role and effect on Malaysian democracy as well as its consequences for political actors and the citizenry such as the development of cyber warfare and the rise of propaganda or fake news in the online domain. It also investigates the interplay between traditional and new media with regard to the evolution of politics in Malaysia especially as a watchdog on accountability and transparency and contributes to the current discourse on the climate of Malaysian politics following the rise of new media in the country. This book is particularly timely in the wake of the 2018 Malaysian general election and will be of interest to students and researchers in communications, politics, new media and cultural studies.

Regime Resilience In Malaysia And Singapore Greg Lopez, Bridget Welsh, 2022-11-08 Prominent scholars across the political divide and academic disciplines analyse how the dominant political parties in Malaysia and Singapore, United Malays National Organisation (UMNO) and the People's Action Party (PAP) have stayed in power. With a focus on developments in the last decade and the tenures of Prime Ministers Najib Tun Razak and Lee Hsien Loong, the authors offer a range of explanations for how these regimes have remained politically resilient.

Media Planning Guide Malaysia 2013, Discursive Approaches to Politics in Malaysia Kumaran Rajandran, Charity Lee, 2023-01-01 This open access book examines Malaysian politics using a linguistic perspective. It explores how language serves to delegitimise governance and its subsequent policies and activities in Malaysia. Grounded in discourse studies, this edited volume presents research on the discourses produced by and on Barisan Nasional, Pakatan Harapan and Perikatan Nasional from 2008 to 2020, studying how political actors delegitimise their governance through discursive means. The thirteen original chapters select spoken, print and digital texts in English, Malay, Mandarin and Tamil and deploy varied theoretical and methodological approaches. Their linguistic analysis unearths the language features and strategies that facilitate delegitimation. It shows how political actors shape the discursive representation and evaluation of multiple concerns in Malaysia. Consequently, Discursive Approaches to Politics in Malaysia: Legitimising Governance improves our understanding of contemporary Malaysian political discourse. It is of interest to graduates and researchers in the field of discourse studies seeking to understand the discursive contours of politics in this developing Asian country.

Handbook of Research on Urban Governance and Management in the Developing World Mugambwa, Joshua, Katusiimeh, Meshach W., 2018-05-09 With the emphasis on market-led development initiatives, sustainable urbanization is a challenge especially in growing nations. Regional administrative efforts are crucial for cities to meet the planned city operations and specific targets and objectives. The Handbook of Research on Urban Governance and Management in the Developing World is a research publication that explores contemporary issues in regional political and administrative practices and key challenges in implementing these strategies in growing nations. Featuring coverage on a wide range of topics such as urban and regional economics, supply chain management and environmental concerns, this book is geared toward city development planners, policy makers, researchers, academics and students seeking current and relevant research on the regional bureaucracy and its practices and how they affect growing nations.

The Face of the Firm Michele Gregory, 2016-02-12. Despite decades of greater gender awareness at work in Western countries, gender inequality in the executive suites is alive and well. The Face of the Firm highlights new critical perspectives on the relationship between hegemonic masculine cultures, gender embodiment and gender disparities in corporate organizations. Using data from over 100 interviews with female and male executives who worked for some of the most prestigious advertising and computer firms in the world, the book makes important connections between the empirical data and contemporary sexism in the United States and United Kingdom. The book refocuses the debate of executive work, organizational spaces and gender inequality on gendered bodies at work. It also demonstrates that gendered and sexualized relations among executives often construct the production process. The book makes a contribution to masculinity, gender and work scholarship and is organized along three key concepts: homogeneity, homosociability and heterosexuality. These address such factors as the organizational locker room, sexual and heterosexual spaces at work and the construction of women and men as different workers. This conceptual model is crucial for evaluating the mechanisms that support male dominance among highly skilled professionals and executives.

Higher Education in Asia UNESCO Institute for Statistics, 2014. As demand for tertiary education continues to rise across Asia, countries are expanding their higher education systems outwards by constructing new universities, hiring more faculty and encouraging private provision. Many of these systems are also moving upwards by introducing new graduate programmes to ensure that there are enough qualified professors and researchers for the future. Based on data from the UNESCO Institute for Statistics (UIS) and a diverse range of national and international sources, this report provides a comprehensive view to evaluate different strategies to expand graduate education Special focus is given to middle income countries in the region which have recently experienced the most dramatic growth through an innovative mix of policies For example interventions aimed at improving university rankings may be controversial but are nonetheless reshaping university reforms The report highlights the pros and cons by comparing the three most commonly used university ranking systems Across the region countries are not simply seeking to accommodate more students they are striving to build top quality universities that can produce the research and workforce needed for national economic development So this report presents a range of data to better evaluate the economic benefits flowing from university research as well as the spillover effects to the private sector The authors also analyse the ways in which international collaboration can boost the productivity and quality of university based research Overall this report provides the data and analysis to help countries weigh the balance of different policies to expand their higher education systems
