Imaginary Ethnographies Gabriele Schwab,2012 Through readings of iconic figures such as the cannibal the child the alien and the posthuman Gabriele Schwab analyzes literary explorations at the boundaries of the human Treating literature as a dynamic medium that writes culture one that makes the abstract particular and local and situates us within the world Schwab pioneers a compelling approach to reading literary texts as anthropologies of the future that challenge habitual productions of meaning and knowledge Schwab s study draws on anthropology philosophy critical theory and psychoanalysis to trace literature s profound impact on the cultural imaginary Following a new interpretation of Derrida s and L vi Strauss s famous controversy over the indigenous Nambikwara Schwab explores the vicissitudes of traveling literature through novels and films that fashion a cross cultural imaginary She also examines the intricate links between colonialism cannibalism melancholia the fate of disenfranchised children under the forces of globalization and the intertwinement of property and personhood in the neoliberal imaginary Schwab concludes with an exploration of discourses on the posthuman using Samuel Beckett s The Lost Ones and its depiction of a future lived under the conditions of minimal life Drawing on a wide range of theories Schwab engages the productive intersections between literary studies and anthropology underscoring the power of literature to shape culture subjectivity and life Babe Marianne Wiggins,1975-04-01 John Dollar Marianne Wiggins,1994 Global Crusoe Ann Marie Fallon,2016-04-22 Global Crusoe travels across the twentieth century globe from a Native American reservation to a Botswanan village to explore the huge variety of contemporary incarnations of Daniel Defoe s intrepid character In her study of the novels poems short stories and films that adapt the Crusoe myth Ann Marie Fallon argues that the twentieth century Crusoe is not a lone struggling survivor but a cosmopolitan figure who serves as a warning against the dangers of individual isolation and colonial oppression Fallon uses feminist and postcolonial theory to reexamine Defoe s original novel and several contemporary texts showing how writers take up the traumatic narratives of Crusoe in response to the intensifying transnational and postcolonial experiences of the second half of the twentieth century Reading texts by authors such as Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Derek Walcott Elizabeth Bishop and J M Coetzee within their social historical and political contexts Fallon shows how contemporary revisions of the novel reveal the tensions inherent in the transnational project as people and ideas move across borders with frequency if not necessarily with ease In the novel Robinson Crusoe Crusoe s discovery of Friday s footprint fills him with such anxiety that he feels the print like an animal and burrows into his shelter Likewise modern readers and writers continue to experience a deep anxiety when confronting the narrative issues at the center of Crusoe's story Graphic Design, New York Steven Heller, 1992 Thirty six design firms and individual graphic designers representing an extraordinary and comprehensive cross section of New York's top design talent display their portfolios in Graphic Design New York 2 In response to this technological revolution many of the design firms create websites for both clients and themselves Almost all designers have embraced the computer age after some hesitation and use state of the art electronics in their offices And through it all design has retained its humanity rafting through this age of high technology design has simply become more accessible as you'll see from browsing through this book Women

Without Men Donald J. Greiner, 1993 Donald J Greiner's provocative new study evaluates the fiction of ten contemporary female novelists to ask questions about gender relations in American fiction Looking closely at the reaction of female writers to what Greiner describes as a central paradigm of American literature men bonding in the wilderness in an attempt to escape women and the social restrictions they represent Greiner contends that female novelists have not only adopted the venerable model but also adapted it so that women venture into the wilderness while excluding men from the quest Greiner first shows how such contemporary white male novelists as Frederick Busch John Irving and Larry Woiwode modify the literary model established by Cooper Melville and Twain to include women in the bonding process He then argues that recent female novelists are not so eager to allow males into the wilderness or to bond with them Rather than facilitate a closing of the gender gap many contemporary female writers insist on separating the sexes Greiner frames his analysis with discussions of prominent feminist literary theorists and feminist psychologists including Carolyn Heilbrun Rachel Brownstein Nancy Chodorow Janice Raymond and Judith Kegan Gardiner From close readings of recent novels by Gloria Naylor Marianne Wiggins Joan Didion Diane Johnson Marilynne Robinson Mona Simpson Hilma Wolitzer Meg Wolitzer Joan Chase and Lisa Alther Greiner finds three significant differences in the way contemporary female novelists employ the quest plot the patriarchal text is not repudiated but revised to accommodate female characters who readily accept the traditional masculine call to the quest once outside the bounds of society female bonds do not always hold males are excluded from the bonding process To contrast the gender exclusivity favored by contemporary female writers Greiner ends his study with a discussion of bonding as portrayed by contemporary male novelist Douglas Ungar Science Fiction & Fantasy Book Review

Annual, 1990 Contemporary Authors New Revision Series Tracey Watson, 2005-07 A biographical and bibliographical guide to current writers in all fields including poetry fiction and nonfiction journalism drama television and movies Information is provided by the authors themselves or drawn from published interviews feature stories book reviews and other materials provided by the authors publishers Women Enter the Wilderness Donald J. Greiner, 1991 The canon of American literature especially the American novel has long been defined by white male writers From Cooper Melville and Twain to Crane Hemingway and Dickey the reciprocal relationship between literature and culture has both reflected and determined the socially acceptable roles of males and females Women scholars and writers have long pointed out that these roles are often different in novels written by female authors
