Islamic Finance and the Global Financial Crisis Hussein Elasrag, 2010-04-28 While some have proposed that the Islamic finance serves as a vehicle for recovering from the international financial crisis and The Islamic banking industry may be able to strengthen its position in the international market as investors and companies seek alternate sources of financing Other economists have argued that Islamic finance is a different way of structuring financial dealings but it is not a totally different financial system This book tries to note the main causes and the impacts of the current financial and economic crisis In addition to discuss the belief that the Islamic finance and its prospective is a viable alternative to the ailing global financial system

Islamic Finance and the New Financial System Tariq Alrifai, 2015-03-18 Can Islamic finance save the global system Islamic Finance and the New Financial System describes how the adoption of Islamic finance principles in future regulatory decisions could help prevent future shocks in the global financial system Using illustrations and examples to highlight key points in recent history this book discusses the causes of financial crises why they are becoming more frequent and increasingly severe and how the new financial system will incorporate elements of Islamic finance whether deliberately or not With an introspective look at the system and an examination of the misconceptions and deficiencies in theory vs practice readers will learn why Islamic finance has not been as influential as it should be on the larger global system Solutions to these crises are thoroughly detailed and the author puts forth a compelling argument about what can be expected in the future Despite international intervention and global policy changes the financial system remains in a fragile state There is an argument to be made about integrating Islamic finance into the new system to facilitate stronger resilience and this book explains the nuts and bolts of the idea while providing the reader with a general understanding of Islamic finance Understand the key principles of Islamic finance Examine the history of the current financial system Discover how Islamic finance can help build a new debt free economy Learn how Islamic finance theory doesn't always dictate practice Although Islamic finance is a growing market it is still a foreign concept to many Those within the Islamic finance circles wonder why the system has yet to gain broader appeal despite its ability to create a strong and well balanced economy Islamic Finance and the New Financial System provides clever analysis and historical background to put the issues into perspective

Causes and Remedies of the Recent Financial Crisis from an Islamic Perspective Mufti Muhammad Taqi Usmani, 2014-01-01 Causes and Remedies of the Recent Financial Crisis From an Islamic Perspective As the leading authority on modern Islamic finance in the world today no one was better qualified to speak for Islam at the annual World Economic Forum following the global financial crisis in 2010 In his address Mufti Taqi Usmani pointed out that the so called crisis only came about when it knocked at the doors of the wealthy Otherwise as Mufti Usmani astutely points out the true crisis is ongoing and unless fundamental changes are made to the world's economic system that crisis will continue In the pages of this slim volume the reader will find a concise study of the fundamental flaws in the global economic system and the eternal principles articulated by the Shariah of Islam that point to a solution Yusuf Talal DeLorenzo Shariah Consultant to Global Financial Institutions Mufti Taqi's paper written in the context of global financial crisis calls for universal change in our attitude toward the treatment of money and the role of financial system in our lives His is a timely call for overhauling the economic system based on values and principles A must read for all who are concerned about the current affairs of our financial system Nazim Ali Director Islamic Finance Project Harvard Law School Harvard University

Weathering the Global Crisis: Can the Traits of Islamic Banking System Make a Difference? Mohamad Azhar Nizam, Siti Zaleha Abdul Rasid, Wan Khairuzzaman Wan Ismail, 2014-05-01 This book is for those interested to know more about Islamic banking In addition it provides insights to both regulators and practitioners to focus their efforts in balancing their portfolio and improving the health of their Islamic banks for the future Past studies have shown that Islamic banks unlike their conventional banking counterparts were better able to weather the global financial crisis partly due to the nature of the Islamic finance which prohibits excessive risk taking In this book the authors review the Islamic finance in terms of governance and firms characteristics We elaborate the relationships between corporate governance and firm characteristics with Risk Weighted Capital Adequacy Ratio RWCAR of full fledged Islamic Banks in Malaysia The motivation for the study is to seek whether the RWCAR of Islamic banks is influenced by the Corporate Governance and Firm Characteristics variables post 2008 global financial crisis Descriptive statistics were presented and correlation using Pearsons Model Correlation Coefficient PMCC was observed and analyzed The findings reveal that Corporate Governance has no direct relationship with the RWCAR of Islamic banks in Malaysia Instead firm characteristics variables such as Total Financing Assets and Effective Foreign Ownership have a strong relationship with RWCAR

Islamic Finance and Global Crisis Hussein Elasrag,2018-08-12 According to some Islamic finance is a cure for the international financial crisis and Islamic finance can strengthen its position in the international market as investors and companies seek alternative sources of finance Other economists argue that Islamic finance is another way of forming financial transactions It s not a completely different financial system I am trying to focus on the main causes and effects of the current financial crisis and the economic crisis In addition the belief that Islamic finance and its future is a real alternative to the discussion of the global financial system

The Stability of Islamic Finance Hossein Askari,Zamir Iqbal,Noureddine Krichenne,Abbas Mirakhor,2011-11-09 The Stability of Islamic Finance main focus is on the question of the sources of financial instability which seems inherent in the conventional system As a core component of this focus the book will consider episodes of turbulence and instability in a historical context recalling the occurrence of such events from mid 19th century to the present It will present various theoretical explanations along with solutions and alternative financial systems that avoid instability provided by various scholars dating back to mid 19th century to present The book then will present and discuss the architecture of an Islamic financial system and show that at its core this system shares many characteristics of an stable financial system proposed by Western scholars throughout history to avoid the inherent instability of the present dominant system Particular emphasis will be placed on the present financial crisis and its causes as well the financial crisis of the 1997 in Southeast Asia Russia and Latin America relating these episodes to the fundamental features of the dominant system The debt crisis of the low income countries will also be part of this discussion It will then argue that these crises could be mitigated under an Islamic system or any other system with similar architecture

Global Financial Crisis (GFC) and Growth of Islamic Finance Muhammad Ayub,2019 The worldview of Islamic economics that emerged in the modern age in the 20th century AD after decolonisation of the Muslim world has witnessed practical manifestations particularly in the areas of banking and finance Islamic banking and finance is now a part and parcel of the global finance being discussed and applied at national multilateral and international levels According to the Standard and Poor s report of 2009 assets of the top 500 Islamic banks expanded by 28.6 per cent while many of the world s financial systems were deleveraging As reported in the Global Islamic Finance Report April 2012 Islamic finance developed during the past decade at an average rate of more than 30 percent per year against the traditional finance persistently caught up in one or the other crises It is still tiny compared with the conventional finance but it s a substantial number all the more impressive given that Islamic financial institutions IFIs have only been back on the scene for three decades Until about 1570 most of the lending in the world was based on profit share says Mohamed Ariff professor of finance at Bond University After about 500 years Islamic finance is undergoing something of a renaissance Professors Kerrie Sadiq and Ann Black of the Queensland University of Technology wrote in a paper published in April this year Given such statistics it is suggested that Islamic finance can contribute to global financial stability It is projected by 2020 the Muslim world will be doing 50 per cent of its banking with Islamic institutions The growth has been broad based to encompass all major areas and sectors including commercial and investment banking Takaful corporate and public sector financing fund management money and capital markets micro SME and trust financing and last but not the least hedging techniques credit risk securitization and other financial derivatives

The Global Financial Crisis and Islamic Finance M. Kabir Hassan, 2018 The conventional view holds that the current global financial crisis was caused by extraordinarily high liquidity reckless lending practices and rapid pace of financial engineering which created complex and opaque financial instruments used for risk transfer There was break down of lender-borrower relationship informational problems caused by lack of transparency in asset market prices particularly in the market for structured credit instruments There was outdated lax or absent regulatory supervisory oversight faulty risk management and accounting models and the emergence of an incentive structure that not only encouraged excessive risk taking but also created a complicit coalition of financial institutions real estate developers and appraisers insurance companies and credit rating agencies whose actions led to a deliberate under pricing of risk Such crisis would not have occurred under an Islamic financial system due to the fact that most if not all of the factors that have caused or contributed to the development and the spread of the crisis are not allowed under the rules and guidance of Shariah The current global financial crisis is largely seen as a real test of the resilience of the Islamic financial services industry and its ability to present itself as a more reliable alternative to the conventional financial system
