Life Sciences Paper 2 201:

Europe in the New World Economy: Opportunities and Challenges Luminita Chivu, Valeriu Ioan-Franc, George Georgescu, Ignacio De Los Ríos Carmenado, Jean Vasile Andrei, 2024-11-25 The transition from traditional economic patterns to a model marked by enhanced efficiency environmental responsibility and the adaptation to a new normal economic philosophy marks a pivotal moment in understanding Europe's economic ecosystem within the new world economy However the reliance on conventional economic philosophies has often overlooked the broader economic and social landscapes in which these paradigms operate This volume explores emerging research topics methodologies and techniques that are essential to understanding the global economy dynamics and growth patterns under crisis circumstances and persistent uncertainties Featuring contributions presented at the 2023 International Conference Economic Scientific Research Theoretical Empirical and Practical Approaches ESPERA held in Bucharest Romania in honor of the 50th Anniversary of the National Institute for Economic Research Costin C Kiritescu of the Romanian Academy this book offers theoretical and practical contributions as well as quantitative and qualitative analyses providing valuable inputs for the design of adequate strategies and policies aimed to address the future challenges and to capitalize on the emerged opportunities From sustainable development to digital innovation this book examines the dynamic landscape of European economics and underscores the significance of interdisciplinary approaches and technological advancements in fostering economic resilience and growth The contents of this book are of interest to scholars researchers students practitioners and policy makers in economics and business transformation

Causal Pluralism in the Life Sciences Kolja Ehrenstein, 2022-03-28 This book takes a new approach to the debate on causal pluralism in the philosophy of biology by asking how useful pluralism is instead of debating its truth The core thesis in this work is that many problems do not hinge on the question of whether or not we subscribe to causal pluralism As one step in this central argument the author develops an account that reasonably distinguishes pluralism from monism in another step he studies cases that allegedly motivate causal pluralism in biology Examining these cases shows how pluralism is often irrelevant and why pursuing pluralism is sometimes dangerous since it may generate pseudo solutions to persistent philosophical problems This book offers a systematic approach to this subject matter and argues that we might have overestimated the significance of the monism pluralism distinction and at the same time failed to see the risks of pursuing causal pluralism

Investigating the Life Sciences G. M. N. Verschuuren, 2016-07-29 A unique introduction to the philosophy of science with special emphasis on the life sciences Part I presents elementary but fundamental concepts and problems in epistemology and their relation to questions of scientific methodology Part II deals with case studies from the history of biology which illustrate particular philosophical points while Part III progresses to more complex ideas as on the nature and methodology of science Part IV discusses the limitations of scientific enquiry and its relations to other systems of knowledge and interpretation
