Microlectures Pages Paysages:

Postcolonial Brittany Heather Williams, 2007 This book investigates the space between the two languages of modern day Brittany through a series of close readings of literary texts that represent Brittany or Bretonness in the French language This is the space that is negotiated by translation be it a smooth translation of Breton scenes and themes into a French fit for the salons of the capital or a foreignizing translation of Breton motifs into a French that writhes and struggles to accommodate them It is also the space negotiated by the bilingual author who writes in the shadow of the other language the literary conventions of one may litter his work in the other or the idioms and syntax of one may make their ghostly presence felt in the other But it can equally be a space of violence as in the case of the writer whose whole community has lost its mother tongue and writes under protest in the language of the cultural oppressor or colonizer As the first sustained analysis of the literature produced between French and Breton this book shows us how literary language is affected by such inter cultural tensions and also what it can mean to be caught between cultures Measuring the Visible Andrea Cady, 2024-09-16

Translating the Perception of Text Clive Scott, 2017-07-05 Translation often proceeds as if languages already existed as if the task of the translator were to make an appropriate selection from available resources Clive Scott challenges this tacit assumption If the translator is to do justice to himself herself as a reader if the translator is to become the creative writer of his/her reading then the language of translation must be equal to the translators perceptual experience of and bodily responses to source texts Each renewal of perceptual and physiological contact with a text involves a renewal of the ways we think language and use our expressive faculties listening speaking writing Phenomenology and particularly the phenomenology of Merleau Ponty underpins this new approach to translation The task of the translator is tirelessly to develop new translational languages ever to move beyond the bilingual into the multilingual and always to remember that language is as much an active instrument of perception as an object of perception Clive Scott is Professor Emeritus of European Literature at the University of East Anglia and a Fellow of the British Academy A Dictionary of Cultural and Critical Theory Michael Payne, Jessica Rae Barbera, 2013-05-06 Now thoroughly updated and revised this new edition of the highly acclaimed dictionary provides an authoritative and accessible guide to modern ideas in the broad interdisciplinary fields of cultural and critical theory Updated to feature over 40 new entries including pieces on Alain Badiou Ecocriticism Comparative Racialization Ordinary Language Philosophy and Criticism and Graphic Narrative Includes reflective broad ranging articles from leading theorists including Julia Kristeva Stanley Cavell and Simon Critchley Features a fully updated bibliography Wide ranging content makes this an invaluable dictionary for students of a diverse range of disciplines Bois Dormant Gérard Macé, 2003 Gérard Macé's work challenges the barriers between poetry and the essay This play between and within genres is essential to his writing which has been called essay merveilleux and derives from a questioning of language in its broadest sense He is equally interested in the seductive musicality of words and in the remembered gestures which traced the hieroglyphs of Egypt and the calligraphic writing of the Far East His fascination with dictionaries grammars and glossaries leads him off on journeys in which the real and the imaginary are fused but without being confused He slips between words like a marvelling child constantly hoping that one day the world might be read like an open book This edition brings together three series of prose poems Le Jardin des langues 1974 Le balcon de Babel 1977 and Bois dormant 1983 Other books by Mac have as their subject literary figures such as Rimbaud Corbi re Nerval and Champollion while Rome et le firmament and Le on de chinois evoke places heavily charged with culture and history Mac s other books include Vies ant rieures 1991 which takes up the relationship between memory and writing in the form of Lives as in the Lives of saints or illustrious men and La m moire aime chasser dans le noir 1993 which develops his fascination with the image the poetic image dream image and photographic image Timothy Mathews took over as G rard Mac s translator for this edition following the death of David Kelley who had started work on the book Jean Pierre Richard is one of Europe s foremost literary critics He has written not only on French poets but also on Stendhal Flaubert and Proust He has a wide following throughout Europe and the USA and is admired particularly for his approachable and sensuous accounts of French writers

Jules LaForgue and Poetic Innovation Anne Holmes, 1993 This is the first work in English to devote itself entirely to the poetry of Jules Laforgue 1860-1887 Based on a detailed study of manuscripts as well as printed texts it analyses the evolution of Laforgue's poetic ideas as he understood it himself Anne Holmes presents a detailed investigation of Laforgue's changing poetic techniques in order to illuminate both his extraordinary poetic versatility and the significance of his adoption of free verse Arguing that Laforgue is the great innovator in the use of free verse in French poetry Holmes sheds light on his method of composition by means of close analysis of variants and explores the precise nature of his experiment with interior monologue She sets Laforgue firmly in the context of contemporary French poetry and highlights the influence on him of Walt Whitman and Impressionist painting Comparison is also made with the work of T.S. Eliot for whom Laforgue was a major influence Laforgue emerges from this study as a far more important figure in the evolution of French verse than has previously been thought He stands as a great and self-consciously modern writer close in spirit to his twentieth-century successors French XX Bibliography Douglas W.
