Mornings in Jenin , 2013 Palestine 1941 In the small village of Ein Hod a father leads a procession of his family and workers through the olive groves As they move through the trees the green fruits drop onto the orchard floor the ancient cycle of the seasons providing another bountiful harvest 1948 The Abulheja family are forcibly removed from their ancestral home in Ein Hod and sent to live in a refugee camp in Jenin Through Amal the bright granddaughter of the patriarch we witness the stories of her brothers one a stolen boy who becomes an Israeli soldier the other who in sacrificing everything for the Palestinian cause will become his enemy Amal s own dramatic story threads its way through six decades of Palestinian Israeli tension eventually taking her into exile in Pennsylvania in America Amal s is a story of love and loss of childhood marriage and parenthood and finally the need to share her history with her daughter to preserve the greatest love she has

The Blue Between Sky and Water Susan Abulhawa, 2015-09-01 In the small Palestinian farming village of Beit Daras the women of the Baraka family inspire awe Nazmiyah is brazen and fiercely protective of her clairvoyant little sister Mariam with her mismatched eyes and of their mother Um Mahmoud known for the fearsome djinni that sometimes possesses her When the family is forced by the newly formed State of Israel to leave their ancestral home only Nazmiyah and her brother survive the long road to Gaza Amidst the violence and fragility of the refugee camp Nazmiyah builds a family navigates crises and nurtures what remains of Beit Daras s community But her brother continues his exile s journey to America where upon his death his granddaughter Nur grows up alone in a different kind of exile the longing for family and roots eventually beckoning her to Gaza Internationally bestselling author Susan Abulhawa's powerful new novel explores the legacy of dispossession across continents and generations With devastatingly clear eyed vision of political and personal trauma The Blue Between Sky and Water is the story of flawed yet profoundly courageous women of separation and heartache endurance and renewal

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up to date history of English language prose fiction written by a large international team of scholars The series is concerned with novels as a whole not just the literary novel and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production distribution and reception and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public's attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States

Post-Orientalism and Contemporary American Novels

Mousa Abu Haserah, 2023-08-09 This book provides a scientific and academic contribution to the scholarly exploration of the complex relationship between the East and the West in American literature The study focuses on four novels Mornings in Jenin Falling Man The Reluctant Fundamentalist and Riyah Al Janna The Wind of Paradise to discuss how the literature reflects on Middle Eastern themes in relation to the situations and conditions of the New East It treats the Orient as a moving body and takes Edward Said's Orientalism into account also showing Post Orientalism or the New East as a literary phenomenon in the 21st century specializing in politics militarism and post colonial ideology The book explains and divides the Middle East into two parts the Arab Islamic Middle East and the non Arab Islamic Middle East It highlights the similarities and differences between these two parts as depicted in various novels presenting the East as a land of desolation and destruction due to the political regional and religious changes that have shaken it The Scar of David Susan Abulhawa, 2010-02-01 1940 In the small village of Ein Hod Palestine a father leads a procession of his family and workers through the olive groves It is time for the harvest and as the green fruits drop onto the orchard floor the father is contented by the cycle of the seasons and by his sons who are growing up to be strong and healthy In 1948 residents of Ein Hod are forcibly removed by the newly formed State of Israel and taken to the Jenin refugee camp where Amal is born But during the family's eviction from their ancestral village Ishmael Amal's brother is stolen in the mayhem of people fleeing for their lives Just a baby Ishmael is raised by a Jewish family and grows up as David an Israeli soldier It is not until the 1967 war when Yousef Amal's eldest brother comes face to face with David his brother the Jew What follows is an absorbing and intensely moving story in which a suicide bomber is given a name face and life of a man pushed to incomprehensible limits an Arab girl of humble beginnings escapes her destiny and lives the American Dream which her soul cannot reconcile and a nation of destitute refugees living under the general label of terrorists emerge in the context of an unredeemed history Set in the midst of the 20th century's most intractable political conflicts The Scar of David weaves history friendship love frayed identity terrorism exhaustion of spirit surrender and courage into a gripping poignant and significant novel

Breaking Broken English Michelle Hartman, 2019-03-26 Black Arab political and cultural solidarity has had a long and rich history in the United States That alliance is once again exerting a powerful influence on American society as Black American and Arab American activists and cultural workers are joining forces in formations like the Movement for Black Lives and Black for Palestine to address social justice issues In Breaking Broken English Hartman explores the historical and current manifestations of this relationship through language and literature with a specific focus on Arab American literary works that use the English language creatively to put into practice many of the theories and ideas advanced by Black American thinkers Breaking Broken English shows how language is the location where literary and poetic beauty meet the political in creative work Hartman draws out thematic connections between Arabs Arab Americans and Black Americans around politics and culture and also highlights the many artistic ways these links are built She shows how political and cultural ideas of solidarity are written in creative texts and emphasizes their potential to mobilize social justice activists in the United States and abroad in the ongoing struggle for the liberation of Palestine Recontextualizing Resistance Emily Golson, 2018-01-23 Resistance is a concept that rose to the forefront of several areas of study when Max Weber made careful distinctions between authority force violence domination and legitimation It gained strong attention when the well known Palestinian journalist activist fiction writer and critic Ghassan Kanafani 1936 1972 published a study entitled the Literature of Resistance in Occupied Palestine 1948 1966 a work that contributed to postcolonial theories of power race ethnicity and gender and second generation theories of orientalism feminism and disability Initially identified by philosophers historians and social critics as a focal point for situations in which oppressors brutally destroy the identity or subjectivity of the oppressed resistance has been transformed by fiction writers filmmakers lyricists and speechmakers into a process in which responses and counter responses to some type of injustice create difficult situations with complicated nuances These works now form the foundation for what has come to be recognized as resistance art This book gathers the insight knowledge and wisdom found in different manifestations of this art to further our understanding of the impact of resistance on contemporary life Against the Loveless World Susan Abulhawa, 2021-11-02 From the internationally bestselling author of the terrifically affecting The Philadelphia Inquirer Mornings in Jenin a sweeping and lyrical novel that follows a young Palestinian refugee as she slowly becomes radicalized while searching for a better life for her family throughout the Middle East Scar of David, Scar of Palestine Susan Abulhawa, My Voice Sought the Wind Susan Abulhawa, 2013 I wrote poetry before I wrote anything else says Susan Abulhawa esteemed Palestinian American author and social activist in the introduction to her first book of poems My Voice Sought the Wind This new work followed her highly acclaimed novel Mornings in Jenin which has been translated into 32 languages since it was published in 2010 My Voice Sought the Wind represents five years of Abulhawa's best poems on the timeless themes of love loss identity and family brought to life through her vivid observations and intimate personal reflections She writes from her own experience with a style that is romantic but tinged with disillusionment often a bit sad and always introspective The Scar of David Susan Abulhawa, 2006 This work focuses on a Palestinian family from the village of Ein Hod which was emptied of its inhabitants by the newly formed state of Israel in 1948 The narrator Amal is born into that family in a UN administered refugee camp in Jenin where her family would eventually die waiting or fighting to return to their beloved Palestine Against the Loveless World Susan Abulhawa, 2020-07 Nahr has been confined to the Cube nine square metres of glossy grey cinderblock devoid of time its patterns of light and dark nothing to do with day and night Journalists visit her but get nowhere because Nahr is not going to share her story with them The world outside calls Nahr a terrorist and a whore some might call her a revolutionary or a hero But the truth is Nahr has always been many things and had many names She was named for the river her pregnant mother crossed when she fled from Palestine but her feckless father called her Yaqoot Ruby For a time when she came of age she was Almas Diamond a girl who went to hidden parties in Kuwait with powerful men who sold off parts of herself to keep her family together She was a girl who learned early and painfully that when you are a second class citizen love is a kind of desperation she learned above all else to survive She was a girl who went to Palestine in the wrong shoes and without looking for it found what she had always lacked in the basement of a battered beauty parlour purpose politics friends She found a dark eyed man called Bilal who taught her to resist who tried to save her when it was already too late Nahr sits in the Cube and tells her story to Bilal Bilal who isn't there Bilal who may not even be alive but who is her only reason to get out

Susan Abulhawa's Mornings in Jenin, Naomi Nyes's Habibi, and Shaw Dallal's Scattered Like Seeds Yassir Sabri Al Suod, 2015 In the thesis I am primarily concerned with critically discussing and tackling specific topics related to the larger fabric of Arab American literature Contemporary Arab American writers are relentlessly trying to convey a new message to the West and the East that life is changing rapidly and the radical thoughts about the relationship between the West and the East call for reexamination Kaapse Bibliotekaris, 2011 Issues for Nov 1957 include section Accessions Aanwinste Sept 1957 □□□□□□□□, 2011 Waging War on the Womb Noora Badwan, 2018
