Le Roi De Kahel:

Le roi de Kahel Tierno Monénembo, 2008 Roman librement inspiré de la vie d'Olivier de Sanderval conquérant du royaume peul du Fouta Djallon précurseur de la colonisation de l'Afrique de l'Ouest      The King of Kahel Tierno Monénembo, 2010 The story is loosely inspired by the life of Olivier de Sanderval who intent on becoming an explorer for most of his life finally set sail for Africa in 1879 after turning 40 As Monenembo tells it once there he recruits a crew of Senegalese infantrymen and travels to Fouta Djallon a land he desperately wants to rule He learns local customs that will aid him in his quest to govern During the following years of conquests and reconquests Sanderval never loses his taste for European luxury and moves between Africa and France where he publishes books on his experience and struggles to command Fouta Eventually he returns to Fouta with his grown son Georges to find war raging between locals and the French army finally extinguishing his lifelong dream      Hospitality and Hostility in the Multilingual Global Village Kathleen Thorpe, Anette Horn, Alida

Poeti, Vronique Tadjó, 2014-08-01 This interdisciplinary international and multilingual collection of essays explores a broad range of issues related to hospitality and hostility in literary and cultural contexts from antiquity to the present Insightful theoretical and historical discussions undergird richly detailed particular studies The central focus unifies the diverse pieces which are original well researched and reasoned and clearly written A solid contribution to scholarship in several fields including linguistics anthropology and Internet culture the volume is also enjoyable to read Its lively and appealing pieces on recent novels and contemporary trends lend a fresh and contemporary feel Prof Pamela S Saur Lamar University Texas

Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment Odile Cazenave, Patricia-Pia Célérier, 2011-02-02 By looking at engaged literature from the recent past when the francophone African writer was implicitly seen as imparted with a mission to the present when such authors usually aspire to be acknowledged primarily for their work as writers Contemporary Francophone African Writers and the Burden of Commitment addresses the current processes of canonization in contemporary francophone African literature Odile Cazenave and Patricia Célérier argue that aesthetic as well as political issues are now at the forefront of debates about the African literary canon as writers and critics increasingly acknowledge the ideology of form Working across genres but focusing on the novel the authors take up the question of renewed forms of commitment in this literature Their selected writers range from Mongo Beti Ousmane Sembène and Aminata Sow Fall to Boubacar Boris Diop Vronique Tadjó Alain Mabankou and L'onora Miano among others      Soudan français Aimé Olivier Comte de Sanderval, 1893      Mediating Violence from Africa George MacLeod, 2023-10 Mediating Violence from Africa explores how African and non African Francophone authors filmmakers editors and scholars have packaged interpreted and filmed the violent histories of post Cold War Francophone Africa This violence much of which unfolded in front of Western television cameras included the use of child soldiers facilitated by the Soviet Union's castoff Kalashnikov rifles the rise of Islamist terrorism in West Africa and the horrific genocide against the Tutsi in Rwanda Through close readings of fictionalized child soldier narratives cinematic representations of Islamist militants genocide survivor testimony and Western scholarship George S MacLeod analyzes the ways Francophone African authors and filmmakers as well as their editors and scholarly critics negotiate the aesthetic political cultural and ethical implications of making these traumatic stories visible MacLeod argues for the need to periodize these productions within a post Cold War framework to emphasize how shifts in post 1989 political discourse are echoed contested or subverted by contemporary Francophone authors filmmakers and Western scholars The questions raised in Mediating Violence from Africa are of vital importance today How the world engages with and responds to stories of recent violence and loss from Africa has profound implications for the affected communities and individuals More broadly in an era in which stories and images of violence from terror attacks to school shootings to police brutality are disseminated almost instantly and with minimal context these theoretical questions have implications for debates surrounding the ethics of representing trauma the politicization of memory and Africa's place in a global as opposed to a postcolonial or Euro African economic and political landscape

Francophone Sub-Saharan African Literature in Global Contexts Alain Mabanckou, Dominic Richard David Thomas, 2011 The work of polymath Jean Francois Lyotard has proved seminal in the best sense of the word original and historical both fundamental and far reaching neither partisan nor exclusive This retrospective volume deals with the extraordinary breadth of Lyotard's thought and his wide ranging impact on critical thinking in the late twentieth century Book Jacket

Climates of Migration Dominic Thomas, 2025-10-14 Climate and migration provide the organizational pillars and the plural climates in the title accentuates the figurative non literal sense to signify the atmosphere that is attached to anxiety disinformation fear and violence Competing narratives and storytelling mechanisms conjointly operate over a longer history of colonial conquest and remain present in the mind sets informing the afterlives of empire as evidenced in debates on identity politics nationalism environmental racial and social justice The broad transregional Africa the Caribbean Europe and transdisciplinary framework privileges comparative analysis between various disciplines and fields notably migration studies environmental humanities eco feminism nationalism and decolonial and postcolonial studies while adopting multigenre approaches that include a diversity of perspectives from literature media discourse art propaganda visual culture and new technologies Together these challenge the criminalizing debasing and often dehumanizing logic associated with official policymaking and propose instead alternative forms of humanization and identification aimed at fostering modes of empathy Climates of Migration explores various forms of environmental exploitation and degradation especially in African literatures where the thematic transformations that have resulted from engagement with environmental ecocide have contributed to a revitalization of writing Planetary climate change and the accompanying disruption to the global ecosystem is traced to European territorial conquest and expansion and subsequently mapped onto the contemporary institutional European Union and political discourses that are structuring our present while also enabling unforeseen forms of planetary consciousness
