West of Eden Jean Stein, 2016 Stein examines Los Angeles and a mythic cast of fortune hunters and aspiring moguls whose quests for fame and power destroyed many along the way She tells the stories of five larger than life individuals and their families each one representing different aspects of Los Angeles and the American dream Each chapter paints a panoramic picture of outsiders pinning their hopes on Los Angeles then watching as the shadow of those dreams envelopes their loved ones especially their children and the city itself

Media-Made Dixie Jack Temple Kirby, 1986 In Media Made Dixie Jack Kirby shows how the American public's perceptions of the South have been influenced even controlled by the mass communications media. In this newly updated edition Kirby surveys major movies, radio and television shows, plays, popular histories and music from the turn of the century through the 1980s. He documents a progression in the national image of the South from the cracker wasteland of Erskine Caldwell's God's Little Acre to the antebellum wonderland of Hollywood's Shirley Temple. Bojangles Robinson, musicals from William Styron's searching account of the Old South in Confessions of Nat Turner to the New South ingenuity of Jimmy Carter and Ted Turner and from the regressive back roads of television's The Dukes of Hazzard to the complex reconciliation found in Alice Walker's and Steven Spielberg's The Color Purple. The Publishers Weekly, 1973. T.C. Memorandum Decisions United States Tax Court, 1953. Hollywood TV Christopher Anderson, 2013-10-11. The 1950s was one of the most turbulent periods in the history of motion pictures and television. During the decade as Hollywood's most powerful studios and independent producers shifted into TV production, TV replaced film as America's principal postwar culture industry. This pioneering study offers the first thorough exploration of the movie industry's shaping role in the development of television and its narrative forms. Drawing on the archives of Warner Bros and David O. Selznick Productions and on interviews with participants in both industries, Christopher Anderson demonstrates how the episodic telefilm series, a clear descendant of the feature film, became and has remained the dominant narrative form in prime time TV. This research suggests that the postwar motion picture industry was less an empire on the verge of ruin, as common wisdom has it, than one struggling under unsettling conditions to redefine its frontiers. Beyond the obvious contribution to film and television studies, these findings add an important chapter to the study of American popular culture of the postwar period. A twenty-one volume encyclopedia with 32,000 entries and more than 16,000 illustrations. American Cinematographer, 1973. Daily Variety, 1958. Travels in Greenland Quentin Falk, 2014. Graham Greene is one of the twentieth century's literary giants and his work has been translated to the cinema more than almost any other major contemporary novelist. Author and film critic Quentin Falk examines all aspects of Greene's involvement in the world of film, including his stint as a movie critic in the 1930s. Contrasts are made between the work that Greene himself adapted for the screen, such as The Third Man and Our Man in Havana, and the work that has been adapted by others, such as The Heart of the Matter and The Honorary Consul. This gorgeous new edition contains a new chapter that includes two of the newest Graham Greene movie adaptations: 2002's The Quiet American and 2010's Brighton Rock.
