Memorandum Mathematical Literacy Paper 1 February March 2014:

An Age of Accountability John L. Rury, 2023-10-13 An Age of Accountability highlights the role of test based accountability as a policy framework in American education from 1970 to 2020 For more than half a century the quest to hold schools and educators accountable for academic achievement has relied almost exclusively on standardized assessment The theory of change embedded in almost all test based accountability programs held that assessment with stipulated consequences could lead to major improvements in schools This was accomplished politically by proclaiming lofty goals of attaining universal proficiency and closing achievement gaps which repeatedly failed to materialize But even after very clear disappointments no other policy framework has emerged to challenge its hegemony The American public today has little confidence in institutions to improve the quality of goods and services they provide especially in the public sector As a consequence many Americans continue to believe that accountability remains a vital necessity even if educators and policy scholars disagree

Knowledge, Curriculum and Equity Brian Barrett, Ursula Hoadley, John Morgan, 2017-07-20 In 2008 the first in a series of symposia established a social realist case for knowledge as an alternative to the relativist tendencies of the constructivist post structuralist and postmodernist approaches dominant in the sociology of education The second symposium focused on curriculum and the development of a theoretical language grounded in social realism to talk about issues of knowledge and curriculum Finally the third symposium brought together researchers in a broad range of contexts to build on these ideas and arguments and with a concerted empirical focus bring these social realist ideas and arguments into conversation with data Knowledge Curriculum and Equity Social Realist Perspectives contains the work of the third symposium where the strengths and gaps in the social realist approach are identified and where there is critical recognition of the need to incrementally extend the theories through empirical study Fundamentally the problem that social realism is seeking to address is about understanding the social conditions of knowledge production and exchange as well as its structuring in the curriculum and in pedagogy The central concern is with the on going social reproduction of inequality through schooling and exploring whether and how foregrounding specialised knowledge and its access holds the possibility for interrupting it This book consists of 13 chapters by different authors working in Oceania Asia Europe Africa and North America From very different vantage points the authors focus their theoretical and empirical sights on the assumptions about knowledge that underpin educational processes and the pursuit of more equitable schooling for all Handbook of Human and Social Conditions in Assessment Gavin T. L. Brown, Lois R. Harris, 2016-06-23 The Handbook of Human and Social Conditions in Assessment is the first book to explore assessment issues and opportunities occurring due to the real world of human cultural historical and societal influences upon assessment practices policies and statistical modeling With chapters written by experts in the field this book engages with numerous forms of assessment from classroom level formative assessment practices to national accountability and international comparative testing practices all of which are significantly influenced by social and cultural conditions A unique and timely contribution to the field of Educational Psychology the Handbook of Human and Social Conditions in Assessment is written for researchers educators and policy makers interested in how social and human complexity affect assessment at all levels of learning Organized into four sections this volume examines assessment in relation to teachers students classroom conditions and cultural factors Each section is comprised of a series of chapters followed by a discussant chapter that synthesizes key ideas and offers directions for future research Taken together the chapters in this volume demonstrate that teachers test creators and policy makers must account for the human and social conditions that shape assessment if they are to implement successful assessment practices which accomplish their intended outcomes Resources in Education ,1998 Engaging Ideas John C. Bean, Dan Melzer, 2021-06-03 Use your course's big ideas to accelerate students growth as writers and critical thinkers The newly revised third edition of Engaging Ideas delivers a step by step guide for designing writing assignments and critical thinking activities that engage students with important subject matter questions This new edition of the celebrated book now written by the co author team of Bean and Melzer uses leading and current research and theory to help you link active learning pedagogy to your courses subject matter You'll learn how to Design formal and informal writing assignments that guide students toward thinking like experts in your discipline Use time saving strategies for coaching the writing process and handling the paper load including alternatives to traditional grading such as portfolio assessment and contract grading Help students use self assessment and peer response to improve their work Develop better ways than the traditional research paper to teach undergraduate reading and research Integrate social media multimodal genres and digital technology into the classroom to promote active learning This book demonstrates how writing can easily be integrated with other critical thinking activities such as inquiry discussions simulation games classroom debates and interactive lectures The reward of this book is watching students come to class better prepared more vested in the questions your course investigates more apt to study purposefully and more likely to submit high quality work Perfect for higher education faculty and curriculum designers across all disciplines Engaging Ideas will also earn a place in the libraries of graduate students in higher education
