Seidel,Harold G. Hunter,1968 In continuing research into the technology of training a study was undertaken to devise guidelines for applying programed instruction to training courses that involve the learning of principles and rules for use in problem solving As the research vehicle a portion of the material in the Army s ADPS Programing Specialist Course was programed to explore several different factors in using automated instruction to teach computer programming Experimental versions of the course were administered to over 900 subjects in various experimental groupings Criterion and retention tests based on actual job problems were used to measure subjects performance along with in training measures Results in a series of prompting confirmation variations indicated that giving subjects extensive stimulus support during training helps motivate them and improves scores during training but hampers them in using what they have learned Requiring subjects to fully write out rules during training hindered them in developing problem solving skills applying these rules however using mneomonics writing only the names of rules during training aided subjects in retaining what they had learned particularly for more complex material Working with a variety of practice problems facilitated the learning of problem solving skills Author Cybernetics Abstracts ,1980 Strategic and Operational Issues in Production Economics Robert W. Grubbström,Hans H. Hinterhuber,1993 The papers in this volume are contributed by leading academicians and practitioners from all over the world They cover a wide variety of strategic and operational issues associated with developing and implementing technological change for increasing the competitiveness of the firm The diversity of their topics and approaches clearly reflects the evolving nature of production economics both as a practical and a theoretical field The contributions reflect the changes in business forces and organizational and methodological responses in which the authors have been involved About half of the papers deal directly or indirectly with the impact of business forces on production planning and control information systems technology transfer and investment and financial planning The remaining papers present the new trends in organizational responses Familiar topics are also included such as manufacturing flexibility and productivity inventory policies materials management process planning and so on Accountancy ,2003 Network Routing Michael O. Ball,1995-10-30 The papers in this volume consider a general area of study known as network routing The underlying problems are conceptually simple yet mathematically complex and challenging How can we best route material or people from one place to another Or how can we best design a system for instance locate facilities to provide services and goods as efficiently and equitably as possible The problems encountered in answering these questions often have an underlying combinatorial structure for example either we dispatch a vehicle or we do not or we use one particular route or another The problems also typically have an underlying network structure a communication or transportation network In addition models for these problems are often very large with hundreds or thousands of constraints and variables A companion volume in the Handbook series entitled Network Models treats basic network models such as minimum cost flows matching and the travelling salesman problem as well as several complex network topics not directly related to routing such as network design and network reliability Advancing Philanthropy ,2007 Advances in Manufacturing Technology Zheng Yi Jiang,Yu Gui Li,Xiao Ping Zhang,Jian Mei Wang,Wen Quan Sun,2012-11-12 Selected papers from the 2nd International Conference on Advanced Design and Manufacturing Engineering ADME 2012 August 16 18 2012 Taiyuan China
