Mid Year Exam 2014 G8:

Education Sector Plans and their Implementation in Developing Countries Roy Carr-Hill, 2023-03-09 This book examines the factors affecting the successful implementation of Education Sector Plans in developing countries. It provides a detailed comparison that draws on data from 27 countries to offer careful research conclusions and policy recommendations. Offering a detailed comparison of the schooling situation e.g. availability of potable water and toilets provision for the disabled as well as educational outcomes both test scores and percentages out of school from the 27 countries using empirical evidence, the book examines the resources that have been invested in different education sectors, investigating the development and success of each plan. The volume uses correlation analysis to compare factors including the availability of government funding, national characteristics, ministerial decisions, influences of country and donor stakeholders as well as district and school level issues. Thorough comparative analysis of the data is then demonstrated with two measures of achievements to identify which factors can be considered as the most important in order to reach realistic policy and research conclusions. Timely and engaging, this book will be of great interest to researchers, scholars and postgraduate students in the field of education and international development, comparative education and international education more broadly.

Conflict and Fragility Fragile States Resource Flows and Trends OECD, 2013-03-04 This publication takes stock of i) the evolution of fragility as a concept ii) analyses of financial flows to and within fragile states between 2000 and 2010 and iii) trends and issues that are likely to shape fragility in the years to come.

A Loud but Noisy Signal? Marius R. Bussemeyer, Julian L. Garritzmann, Erik Neimanns, 2020-09-03 This path breaking addition to the Comparative Politics of Education series studies the influence of public opinion on the contemporary politics of education reform in Western Europe. The authors analyze new data from a survey of public opinion on education policy across eight countries and they also provide detailed case studies of reform processes based on interviews with policy makers and stakeholders. The book's core finding is that public opinion has the greatest influence in a world of loud politics when salience is high and attitudes are coherent. In contrast, when issues are salient but attitudes are conflicting, the signal of public opinion turns loud but noisy and party politics have a stronger influence on policy making. In the case of quiet politics when issue salience is low, interest groups are dominant. This book is required reading for anyone seeking to make sense of policy makers' selective responsiveness to public demands and concerns.
