Beauvais, 2016 During early adolescence children experience development in four major areas physical cognitive social emotional and sensory motor As a result of all of these simultaneous changes the middle school years are often considered the most turbulent developmental years of adolescence and have a profound impact on teaching and learning The middle school concept embraces the uniqueness of adolescence and provides a model for addressing the needs of middle school students Three preeminent educational reform initiatives Turning Points 2000 This We Believe 2003 and Breaking Ranks in the Middle 2006 addressed the challenge of meeting the needs of adolescents by recommending beliefs practices characteristics and strategies specifically focused on the middle school student One area of prominence in these reform documents is personalized learning which includes the implementation of advisory programs in the middle school Advisory programs are driven by the primary purpose of ensuring each child is well known by at least one adult Studies have shown that schools have a difficult time planning implementing and sustaining this element of the middle school concept The focus of this qualitative study was to investigate middle school students perceptions and understandings of advisory as a means to utilize the insight gained to improve the advisory program at the researcher s school and to provide other middle schools with pertinent data to support their programs Through a phenomenological approach the researcher sought to derive meaning from an experience as described by the individuals who have experienced it The Encyclopedia of Middle Grades Education Steven B. LeCloux,2002 Abstract My advocacy project is to develop and implement a curriculum for a middle school advisory program at St John School Goals of this project include getting more time during the school day for advisory organizing staff members so activities can be planned and implementing rules for students and staff members during advisory This project will provide more structure to advisory time which is currently being misused and abused by both students and staff It will provide guidelines for current and future advisors to follow Students at St John School need a staff advocate that they can rely on in any situation whether it is academic social or personal An improved advisory program can provide this opportunity to St John students Middle School Advisory Programs Susan Cvengros Mortensen,2007

This comprehensive investigation on middle school advising was chiefly concerned with assessing and improving an advising program at a Seattle independent school For the purpose of gathering background information the directors of six advising programs in the region were interviewed Of primary interest was the history of each program s evolution the prevailing program priorities and the common expectations of advisors Following these interviews a detailed review of the focal advisory program was conducted Meetings were held with the advisors of each grade level at a fifth through eighth grade middle school These meetings were designed to ascertain developmental trends isolate student needs and determine advisory program priorities The grade level workshops were followed by eight advisory group observations eight interviews with advisors and eight interviews with advisees Finally over 350 electronic surveys were conducted of families advisors and advisees The interviews with program directors of other schools revealed a variety of program structures styles and priorities The most common priorities of all programs were academic advocacy and community building The interviews observations and surveys of the focal school revealed these same trends for priorities and the survey data revealed that most constituents have a common understanding of what the advisor s role should be While the data revealed that the majority of constituents are pleased with the advising at this school there were dominant perceptions about what might improve overall program effectiveness Some of the recommendations include establishing clear expectations refining program purpose improving program marketing increasing advisor training and providing advisors with ample tools for helping them manage unstructured time The discussion includes the final summary of recommendations gleaned from the inquiry and the initial literature review An Evaluation of the Saint Paul Academy Middle School Advisory Program Julie McGirl McGlincey,2001 Resources in Education ,1993-07 Students' Responses to Middle School Advisory Programs Sarah C. Treworgy,1997 This qualitative case study sought to answer the question What do eighth grade girls say about the role of advisory programs in their middle school experience Five eighth grade girls from two different middle schools were interviewed to determine how advisory groups have played a role in their middle school experiences as well as what worked well for them in an advisory program Their responses were coded and grouped based on experiences and along with observation notes were qualitatively analyzed School experiences related to advisory were community service inter grade level friendships and improved relations with their advisor All students interviewed thought that advisory was a positive part of their middle school experiences and feel that it should be a part of every school The Junior High School and Its Curriculum Philip Wescott Lawrence Cox,1929 Research and Resources in Support of This We Believe Vincent A. Anfara,P. Gayle Andrews,2003 Beyond Measure Patricia Holland,2013-09-13 This book shows that the current focus on high stakes tests has narrowed the definition of a successful school It demonstrates that in addition to focusing on standardized measures educators also need to look at other matters such as what actually goes on in their classrooms teachers professional development parental involvement and school climate These chapters were written by school leaders who are champions of accountability but who also ask us to take a look at the bigger picture
