With the increase of automotive competitors not only from local but also foreign organizations a car brand needs to understand its audience well in order to apply its marketing communication strategies. In other words apply the correct messages and related media to communicate with the targeted Chinese consumers successfully. China has currently 1.3 billion individual consumers on the market out of which over 350 are USD Billionaires and 500 million are below age 30. These two distinctive statistics of the consumer market are specifically pointed out as they are the key to acknowledging that the consumers in China are changing. Recent studies have shown that the purchasing criteria decision making process and used communication channels are quite different of the younger consumers than those of the lost generation who acquired sudden wealth after the Cultural Revolution. Though the newly rich now in their 50's are still the main target group of luxury brands in China a good marketer always has to be able to predict future developments. With the modernization of the Chinese society the costumers who will inherit the fortunes of the lost generation and rise in line with the rise of the country's economy is namely Generation Y. Who are these successors of the post revolution newly rich consumers and how do we communicate a product to them successfully. On the basis of my unquestionable fascination by China's Automotive Market and German Luxury car brands I will pursue to answer the above question in order to give an overview for a marketer as to how successfully communicate a car to Chinese Generation Y consumer. Due to research in this field still being at an embryonic stage I will personally carry out an empirical investigation and outline who this consumer is how they process information their usage of mass and personal communication and acknowledge their attitude towards German luxury car brands. Finally on the basis of the research findings I will define Chinese Generation Y car purchasing behavior and create a marketing communication strategy for a German Luxury car brand in China wishing to engage with the consumer in question.
