The Politics of Conducting Research in Africa Lyn Johnstone, 2018-08-29 This edited volume investigates the ethical and emotional challenges of conducting fieldwork in Africa. It reflects on difficulties researchers face such as objectivity, access, gender issues, and information risks. Focusing across a wide range of states and themes, the project makes an original contribution and builds upon existing strengths and insights in various disciplines by presenting research practical insights from contemporary cases of fieldwork. As such, the book is an accessible and useful guide for students and scholars alike.

English File 4E Elementary Student Book Christina Latham-Koenig, Clive Oxenden, Kate Chomacki, Jerry Lambert, 2020-07-28 English File's unique lively and enjoyable lessons are renowned for getting students talking. In fact, 90% of English File teachers we surveyed in our impact study found that the course improves students' speaking skills, communication, and language practice more than ever before, helping students develop relevant communication skills they can use immediately in the workplace.

The Prison Letters of Nelson Mandela Nelson Mandela, 2018-07-10 One of NPR's Great Reads of 2018. An unforgettable portrait of one of the most inspiring historical figures of the twentieth century, published on the centenary of his birth. Arrested in 1962 as South Africa's apartheid regime intensified its brutal campaign against political opponents, forty-four-year-old lawyer and African National Congress activist Nelson Mandela had no idea that he would spend the next twenty-seven years in jail. During his 10,052 days of incarceration, the future leader of South Africa wrote a multitude of letters to unyielding prison authorities, fellow activists, government officials, and most memorably to his courageous wife Winnie and his five children. Now, 255 of these letters, many of which have never been published, provide exceptional insight into how Mandela maintained his inner spirits while living in almost complete isolation and how he engaged with an outside world that became increasingly outraged by his plight. Organized chronologically and divided by the four venues in which he was held as a sentenced prisoner, The Prison Letters of Nelson Mandela begins in Pretoria Local Prison where Mandela was held following his 1962 trial. In 1964, Mandela was taken to Robben Island Prison where a stark existence was lightened only by visits and letters from family. After eighteen years, Mandela was transferred to Pollsmoor Prison, a large complex outside of Cape Town with beds and better food, but where he and four of his comrades were confined to a rooftop cell apart from the rest of the prison population. Finally, Mandela was taken to Victor Verster Prison in 1988 where he was held until his release on February 11, 1990. With accompanying facsimiles of some of his actual letters, this landmark volume reveals how Mandela, a lawyer by training, advocated for prisoners' human rights. It reveals him to be a loving father who wrote to his daughter, "I sometimes wish science could invent miracles and make my daughter get her missing birthday cards and have the pleasure of knowing that her Pa loves her." Aware that photos and letters he sent had simply disappeared, more painful still are the letters written in 1969 when Mandela was forbidden from attending the funerals of his mother, and his son Thembi was reduced to consoling family.

members through correspondence Yet what emerges most powerfully is Mandela s unfaltering optimism Honour belongs to those who never forsake the truth even when things seem dark grim who try over and over again who are never discouraged by insults humiliation even defeat Whether providing unwavering support to his also imprisoned wife or outlining a human rights philosophy that resonates today The Prison Letters of Nelson Mandela reveals the heroism of a man who refused to compromise his moral values in the face of extraordinary punishment Ultimately these letters position Mandela as one of the most inspiring figures of the twentieth century From The Prison Letters of Nelson Mandela A new world will be won not by those who stand at a distance with their arms folded but by those who are in the arena whose garments are torn by storms whose bodies are maimed in the course of contest I am convinced that floods of personal disaster can never drown a determined revolutionary nor can the cumulus of misery that accompanies tragedy suffocate him My respect for human beings is based not on the colour of a man s skin nor authority he may wield but purely on merit A good pen can also remind us of the happiest moments in our lives bring noble ideas into our dens our blood our souls It can turn tragedy into hope victory

The Humanities in Contemporary Chinese Contexts Evelyn T. Y. Chan, Michael O'Sullivan, 2016-10-22 This book brings together the perspectives of eminent and emerging scholars on contemporary issues relevant to the practice pedagogy and institutionalization of the humanities in the three Chinese contexts of Hong Kong Taiwan and mainland China It addresses the need to investigate how humanities discussions often exclusively drawn from and grounded in western contexts are today being played out in these three places The humanities in contemporary Chinese contexts may have different social and pedagogical roles and a consideration of them will enable people to moderate and perhaps even refute claims made in the recent re readings of the humanities As Asian universities rise in the global rankings and as east west university collaborations and partnerships become more common it is important that the nature practice and institutionalization of the humanities in Hong Kong Taiwan and mainland China are explored and described for English readers Exploring new perspectives arising from an examination of the humanities in these places this volume aims neither to establish a position of polarity which would pit western sites against Chinese ones nor to argue for universal sameness Rather the goal is to find nuanced correspondences and differences between these various backgrounds so that there is a greater understanding of the specificities of Chinese contexts This will help shed light not only on the contexts in question but also potentially on how to rearticulate the importance of the humanities in general creating an intercultural dialogue focused on the humanities As the global university strives to move the different traditions of learning closer together through international rankings rubrics and shared research agendas it is important that we explore these locations of potential cultural exchange
