In Organizational Behavior: Solutions for Management, Paul Sweeney and Dean McFarlin have identified 4 key management skills areas that act as building blocks for successful behavior in management. These skills are self-insight, perceptual skills, ability to inspire/motivate/lead, ability to analyze situations, and personal flexibility/adaptability. The authors also feel strongly that successful management of organizational behavior rests on the problem-solving process. In fact, the 4 skills listed above enable managers to use this process to deal with the people problems they face more effectively. If nothing else, studying what organizational behavior has to offer as a field should help a person figure out his/her strengths and weaknesses.
