Les Fins De L'homme:

Jacques Derrida (Routledge Revivals) William Schultz, Lewis L.B. Fried, 2016-06-17 First published in 1992 this book represents the first major attempt to compile a bibliography of Derrida's work and scholarship about his work. It attempts to be comprehensive rather than selective, listing primary and secondary works from the year of Derrida's Master's thesis in 1954 up until 1991 and is extensively annotated. It arranges under article type a huge number of works from scholars across numerous fields, reflecting the interdisciplinary and controversial nature of Deconstruction. The substantial introduction and annotations also make this bibliography in part a critical guide and as such will make a highly useful reference tool for those studying his philosophy.

Ethical Issues in Twentieth Century French Fiction C. Davis, 1999-12-08 This book examines ethical problems raised by a number of key twentieth century theoretical and fictional texts by authors such as Levinas, Sartre, Beauvoir, Yourcenar, Duras, and Genet. It argues that even texts which apparently espouse ethical positions based on respect for and responsibility towards others frequently depict conflict as an insurmountable aspect of human relations. This is reflected at an aesthetic level as these texts both describe the struggle for supremacy and replicate it in their relation to their readers.

Retreating the Political Phillippe Lacoue-Labarthe, Jean-Luc Nancy, 2005-08-19 This collection of essays presents for the first time in English some of the key essays on the political by Philippe Lacoue-Labarthe and Jean-Luc Nancy. Including several unpublished essays, Retreating the Political offers some highly original perspectives on the relationship between philosophy and the political. Through contemporary readings of the political in Freud, Heidegger, and Marx, the authors ask if we can talk of an a priori link between the philosophical and the political; they investigate the significance of the figure of the human being as political subject in the history of metaphysics and they inquire how we can re-treat the political today in the face of those who argue that philosophy is at an end.

Devotion Constance M. Furey, Sarah Hammerschlag, Amy Hollywood, 2021-12-10 What brings religious scholars Constance Furey, Sarah Hammerschlag, and Amy Hollywood together in Devotion is a shared conviction that reading helps us live with and through the unknown. For them, the nature of reading raises questions fundamental to how we think about our political futures and modes of human relation. Each essay suggests different ways to characterize the object of devotion and the stance of the devout subject before it. Furey writes about devotion in terms of vivification, energy, and artifice; Hammerschlag in terms of commentary, mimicry, and fetishism; and Hollywood in terms of anarchy, antinomianism, and atopia. They are interested in literature not as providing models for ethical, political, or religious life but as creating the site in which the possible and the impossible transport the reader, enabling new forms of thought, habits of mind, and modes of life. Ranging from German theologian Martin Luther to French Jewish philosopher Sarah Kofman to American poet Susan Howe, this volume is not just a reflection on forms of devotion; it is also an enactment of devotion itself.
