Mass Communication And Journalism:

JOURNALISM AND MASS COMMUNICATION -Volume II Rashmi Luthra, 2009-05-12 Journalism and Mass Communication is the component of Encyclopedia of Social Sciences and Humanities in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias The Theme on Journalism and Mass Communication deals in two volumes and cover five main topics with a myriad of issues of great relevance to our world such as Evolution of Journalism and Mass Communication Evolution of Mass Communication Mass Communication and Sustainable Futures The Internet as a Mass Communication Medium Management and Future of Mass Communications and Media Communication Strategies for Sustainable Societies which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers NGOs and GOs Mass Communication Ronald T. Farrar, 1995-10 This textbook offers an introduction to mass communication It includes an examination of the difficulties and progress of minorities and women in the mass media industry and material covering the economic cultural and political barriers to the free flow of information and ideas worldwide Media/impact Shirley Biagi, 2003 Consistently praised for its engaging writing style currency and visual appeal this revised text introduces students to the basic mass media channels such as newspapers magazines electronic media and the Internet It includes a focused examination of the history ethics cultural and social implications regulation and technology that surrounds and controls the media The new edition will engage and excite students even more with the addition of an interactive CD ROM Biagi fully immerses students within the media as they learn about the media Women in Mass Communication Pamela J. Creedon, Judith Cramer, 2006-07-11 The Third Edition of Women in Mass Communication provides a new generation of students with an insightful examination of women in the journalism and mass communication professions In this seminal volume editors Pamela Creedon and Judith Cramer offer ideas and directions for improving the status of women and men working in the field Intended Audience This is an excellent text for undergraduate students in mass communication taking courses such as Women in Mass Media Women in Journalism or Issues in Mass Communication It can also be used in a variety of courses in women's studies gender studies and cultural studies departments History and Future of Mass Media David Demers, 2007 This book argues that the no Marxists mostly have it wrong Although corporate media are structurally organized to maximize profits and produce content that generally helps elites achieve their goals this does not mean corporate media have less capacity to facilitate social change than entrepreneurial or other forms of media In fact historical evidence and comparative critical studies presented in this book show that mass media become more not less critical of dominant power groups institutions and value systems as they become more corporatized This proposition is part of a larger theoretical model that integrates the role of both social structure and human agency in explaining the persistence of modern capitalism The structural part of the theory also enables scholars to make predictions about the future of mass media including the ideas that the Internet is stealing some of the mediating power of traditional mass media and the market power of global media will grow in absolute terms but will shrink in relative terms because of increasing competition from new and traditional media
