Afrikaans Short Stories Felix Vincent Lategan, Michael Wallendorf Smuts, Hymne Weiss, 1964 The Vita Anthology of New South African Short Fiction Marcia Leveson, 1988 Homeschooling High School Shirley Erwee, 2014-08-28

Prospective homeschoolers are parents looking for an alternative to the mainstream educational system for their offspring. But homeschooling children at high school level strikes fear into even the most dedicated of homeschoolers. They need information and answers to their questions. And with the current educational and unemployment problems in South Africa, young people need clear direction and guidance to help them achieve their goals. In addition to exploring the popular ways to gaining a recognised matric certificate outside the formal school system, Homeschooling High School also challenges readers to rethink their values, particularly the value they place on certification, and to consider some unconventional or alternative paths to success. In a clearly presented format, the book includes advice on legal matters, identifying appropriate courses, sourcing study material, tips on entrepreneurship, financing tertiary studies, and the testimonies of successful homeschooled graduates. Homeschooling High School is a comprehensive guide to plotting a path through high school and beyond. The Transvaal Educational News, 1939 Reading guide: Perfect Riana Joubert, 2023-08-15

Hierdie gebruikersvriendelike en praktiese gids is ideaal vir klaskamergebruik. By elke hoofstuk is daar 'n opsomming van interessante en of moeilike woordeskat wat uitgelig word, besprekingspunte en ander praatse skryfaktiwiteite. Die gids sal onderwysers help om letterkundige aspekte op 'n eenvoudige manier te onderrig en al die aktiwiteite van vrae en antwoorde sal beslis die onderwyser se voorbereidingstyd verkort. Leerders kan ook die gids met vrug vir selfstudie gebruik. Zoë Wicomb & the Translocal Kai Easton, Derek Attridge, 2017-09-25

This is the first book on the fiction of Zoë Wicomb, a writer long at the forefront of the South African canon and whose international stature was firmly secured with the award of an inaugural Windham-Campbell prize at Yale in 2013. It brings together interdisciplinary essays from the UK, USA, South Africa, and Australia, demonstrating Wicomb's importance as a novelist, short story writer, and critic. The central focus of the volume is the translocal, a term that navigates the complex and shifting relations between disparate localities, respecting the situatedness of each locality within its immediate geopolitical context while investigating the connections and contrasts that operate between them. In Wicomb's case, her work stems from a dual allegiance to two localities: both in her fiction as in her life, South Africa's Western Cape and the west of Scotland. In tracking the relations, contemporary and historical, between these sites, her fiction reveals a consistent interest in and interrogation of home and belonging, space and place. It also offers telling insights into questions of race and gender. The historical processes of colonization and migration that have produced translocal connections of this kind are central to postcolonial studies, to which this book makes a significant contribution. Exploring the visual and cartographical and extending debates on the transnational and cosmopolitan that are currently taking place across disciplines, including literary studies, geography, history, politics, and anthropology, the collection covers the range of Wicomb's work. It also features an unanthologised essay by Wicomb herself an interview and a suite of photographs by Sophia Klaase whose images of Namaqualand inspired Wicomb's most recent novel October

Homeschooling: The Primary Years Shirley Erwee, 2015-07-13 An invaluable guide for families embarking on the journey of educating their primary school age children at home One of the biggest challenges for homeschooling parents is to break away from the model of education they received in school and to re educate themselves about Education as the conventional classroom methodology is not the model of pedagogy teaching that works best in the homeschool scenario This book offers tried and tested alternatives that will enrich and facilitate learning rather than hinder the process of educating young minds Having been part of the first generation of South African homeschoolers the author shares her knowledge plus tips and advice she has learnt along the way in order to help others make good choices and avoid common pitfalls and costly mistakes

Shadow Sisters Shelley Davidow, 2018-03-28 A brave heartrending memoir of family love and longing in the turbulent era of Apartheid in South Africa During the terrifying years of Apartheid in South Africa Shelley Davidow's family was a crime At a time when it was illegal for black and white people to live together Shelley's social activist parents took in Rosie an abandoned black three year old Rosie grew up as a beloved daughter and sister in a white household Against the backdrop of racist laws and ever present threats of violence Shelley's parents did all they could to provide a safe happy home for their five children But when Rosie was sixteen devastating truths came to light shattering the family's understanding of the past In this haunting memoir Shelley Davidow sifts through the memories of her early life searching for hope and reconciliation Shadow Sisters leaves us with a deeper understanding of family love and of how sometimes that love is not enough

Lahlekile Doreen Merle Foster, 2007 The South African nursing experience over 90 years has been adequately documented and may be found on the shelves of public libraries university libraries and hospital libraries as well as between the pages of struggle literature such as Critical Health This book does not attempt academic analysis per se rather is it an authentic oral and written account of the experiences which shaped the careers of black nurses The sample of respondents was picked at random across the country as time and private purse allowed They were assured anonymity in that only first or nicknames would be used as a rule except where a surname carries historical significance In 1994 when the winds of changes blew democracy across the political landscape the South African nursing profession too was gusted along the road of revolution It was no longer a question of whether change would come but when Nonceba Lubanga in her chapter Nursing in South Africa has been given a detailed account of the struggle of black nurses referring to them as the unsung heroes of the African struggle in South Africa P 4 of cover

Global Cultures Elisabeth Young-Bruehl, 1994-12-09 An anthology of 62 stories from around the non Euro American world providing new definitions of cultural diversity and commonality and an invaluable tool for teachers responding to the growing need for multicultural literature Over the past two decades sweeping political changes and burgeoning new technologies have resulted in communities being increasingly defined in global as well as regional and national terms Although the intellectual terra nova of world cultures remains largely uncharted this anthology of sixty two stories from around the non Euro American world provides what Elisabeth Young Bruehl calls an introductory map to the great wealth of literary works now being produced in at once the particular settings of the writers experiences and the global setting Young Bruehl finds that while the cultural diversity the stories exemplify is amazing so too is the similarity in thematic terms of the concerns that this diversity presents Thus she organized Global Cultures thematically to highlight and clarify how these worldwide cultures both converge and diverge A comprehensive general introduction outlines forces behind the transnational approach to literary study and chapter introductions contextualize each story Stories from India Cuba South Africa and Uruguay are connected by the theme of exile and immigration tales from Nigeria Guatemala Cameroon and Egypt share a theme of political violence and civil uprisings works from Taiwan Chile Jamaica and Syria describe commonalities of women facing effects of modernization prejudice war and immigration Global Cultures contributes to the fast growing body of contemporary short fictions newly available in English and is an invaluable resource to meet the need for multicultural literature
