Leica Rc30 Aerial Film Camera:

Digital Airborne Camera Rainer Sandau, 2009-12-10 Digital airborne cameras are now penetrating the fields of photogrammetry and remote sensing Due to the last decade's results in research and development in the fields of for instance detector technology computing power memory capacity position and orientation measurement it is now possible to generate with this new generation of airborne cameras different sets of geometric and spectral data with high geometric and radiometric resolutions within a single flight This is a decisive advantage as compared to film based airborne cameras The linear characteristic of the opto electronic converters is the basis for the transition from an imaging camera to an images generating measuring instrument Because of the direct digital processing chain from the airborne camera to the data products there is no need for the processes of chemical film development and digitising the film information Failure sources as well as investments and staff costs are avoided But the effective use of this new technology requires the knowledge of the features of the image and information generation its possibilities and its restrictions This book describes all components of a digital airborne camera from the object to be imaged to the mass memory device So the image quality influencing processes in nature are described as for instance the reflection of the electromagnetic sun spectrum at the objects to be imaged and the influence of the atmosphere Also the essential features of the new digital sensor system their characteristics and parameters are addressed and put into the system context The complexity of the cooperation of all camera components as for instance optics filters detector elements analogue and digital electronics software and so forth becomes transparent The book includes also the description of example systems

Observation of the Earth and Its Environment Herbert J.

Kramer, 2012-12-06 The following listing represents a survey and short descriptions of Earth Observing Missions in alphabetical order The listing in Part A considers completed operational as well as planned missions on an international scale Earth observations from space know no national boundaries A look into past activities is important for reasons of heritage context and perspective The document is intended for all who want to keep track of missions and sensors in the fast growing field of Earth observation There cannot be any claim to completeness although a considerable effort was made to collect and integrate all known missions and sensors into this book Earth observation by remote sensing changes our view and perception of the world We begin to realize the global character of remote sensing its multidimensional and complementary nature its vast potential to many disciplines its importance to mankind as a whole Remote sensing permits for the first time in history a total system view of the Earth The view from space toward Earth has brought about sweeping revisions in the Earth sciences in particular in such fields as meteorology oceanology hydrology geology geography forestry agriculture geodynamics solar terrestrial interactions and many others

Sciences of Geodesy - II Guochang Xu, 2012-08-01 This series of reference books describes the sciences of different fields in and around geodesy Each chapter is written by experts in the respective fields and covers an individual field and describes the history theory the objective the technology and the development the highlight of the research the applications the problems as well as future directions Contents of Volume II include Geodetic LEO Satellite Missions Satellite Altimetry Airborne Lidar GNSS Software Receiver Geodetic Boundary Problem GPS and INS VLBI Geodetic Reference Systems Spectral Analysis Earth Tide and Ocean Loading Tide Remote Sensing Photogrammetry Occultation Geopotential Determination Geoid Determination Local Gravity Field Geopotential Determination Magnet Field Mobile Mapping General Relativity Wide area Precise Positioning etc Recording, Documentation and Information Management for the Conservation of Heritage Places Robin Letellier,Rand Eppich,2015-12-22 This two volume guide provides a comprehensive overview of the fundamental principles and guidelines for documenting cultural heritage places It seeks to aid heritage managers and decision makers in understanding their roles and responsibilities inn this essential activity Volume 1 Guiding Principles explains why heritage managers must make sure that heritage information fully integrated into all research investigation and conservation activities Through the discussion of basic principles benefits and new approaches it assists those in charge of preserving immovable cultural heritage by bringing current heritage information practices to a new level By recording we create a reference for evaluating change and add to the understanding of a site By documenting we guarantee that information is systematically collected and preserved for future use By managing the information we make it available and provide a basis for sharing our knowledge and understanding Volume 2 presents illustrated examples from around the world Good documentation of a site allows for better understanding of the site s value Recognizing value and significance is often the first step toward a site s eventual conservation The information obtained through the documentation process allows conservation professionals to record current conditions consider appropriate conservation options plan interventions apply treatments and finally measure the results of their efforts Documentation can be a tool in resolving a conservation issue This volume presents several illustration examples from around the world in various stages of conservation GeoWorld ,2004 The Routledge Handbook of Geospatial Technologies and Society Alexander J. Kent,Doug Specht,2023-08-17 The Routledge Handbook of Geospatial Technologies and Society provides a relevant and comprehensive reference point for research and practice in this dynamic field It offers detailed explanations of geospatial technologies and provides critical reviews and appraisals of their application in society within international and multi disciplinary contexts as agents of change The ability of geospatial data to transform knowledge in contemporary and future societies forms an important theme running throughout the entire volume Contributors reflect on the changing role of geospatial technologies in society and highlight new applications that represent transformative directions in society and point towards new horizons Furthermore they encourage dialogue across disciplines to bring new theoretical perspectives on geospatial technologies from neurology to heritage studies The international contributions from leading scholars and influential practitioners that constitute the Handbook provide a wealth of critical examples of these technologies as agents of change in societies around the globe The book will appeal to advanced undergraduates and practitioners interested or engaged in their application worldwide Hydro International ,2000
