

Update Java Version

The image shows two overlapping windows from the Java update process. The background window is titled "Java Update - Update Available" and contains the following text:

- Java Update Available
- Java 8 Update 91 includes improved performance and stability, and enhanced security. More information...
- Note: No personal information is gathered as part of our install process. Details on the information we collect
- Click Update to accept the license agreement and install Java now.

At the bottom of this window are "Later" and "Update >" buttons. A red arrow points from the "Update >" button to the foreground window.

The foreground window is titled "Java Setup - Complete" and contains the following text:

- You have successfully installed Java
- You will be prompted when Java updates are available. Always install updates to get the latest performance and security improvements. More about update settings

At the bottom of this window is a "Close" button. A red arrow points from the "Close" button to the "Update Now" button in the bottom right corner of the image.

On the right side, there is a "Java Setup - Advanced" window with tabs for "General", "Content", "Java", "Security", and "Advanced". The "Java" tab is selected. It contains the following text:

- The Java update mechanism ensures you have the most updated version of the Java platform. The update center lets you control how updates are obtained and applied.
- Ready to: Before downloading
- ☒ Check for updates automatically Advanced...
- Every Friday at 12:00 AM, Java updates will check for updates. If an update is recommended, an icon will appear in the system toolbar notification area. Move the cursor over the icon to see the status of the update. You will be notified before the update is downloaded.

Below this text is a "Java Update" dialog box with a blue information icon and the text: "You already have the latest Java Platform on this system." At the bottom of the dialog is an "OK" button. A red arrow points from the "Update Now" button to the "Update Now" button in the bottom right corner of the image.

Java Message Service David Chappell, Richard Monson-Haefel, 2007-06-26 This book is a thorough introduction to Java Message Service JMS the standard Java application program interface API from Sun Microsystems that supports the formal communication known as messaging between computers in a network JMS provides a common interface to standard messaging protocols and to special messaging services in support of Java programs The messages exchange crucial data between computers rather than between users information such as event notification and service requests Messaging is often used to coordinate programs in dissimilar systems or written in different programming languages Using the JMS interface a programmer can invoke the messaging services of IBM's MQSeries Progress Software's SonicMQ and other popular messaging product vendors In addition JMS supports messages that contain serialized Java objects and messages that contain Extensible Markup Language XML pages Messaging is a powerful new paradigm that makes it easier to uncouple different parts of an enterprise application Messaging clients work by sending messages to a message server which is responsible for delivering the messages to their destination Message delivery is asynchronous meaning that the client can continue working without waiting for the message to be delivered The contents of the message can be anything from a simple text string to a serialized Java object or an XML document Java Message Service shows how to build applications using the point to point and publish and subscribe models how to use features like transactions and durable subscriptions to make an application reliable and how to use messaging within Enterprise JavaBeans It also introduces a new EJB type the MessageDrivenBean that is part of EJB 2.0 and discusses integration of messaging into J2EE
