Resources in Education, 1996-05 Mass Media Advertising Edith Smit, 1999

For most consumers advertising is less important than advertisers might think. Advertising appears to function as something in the background that is hardly noticed as wallpaper. But mass mediated advertising should at least function as a reminder when people are making choices. Smit addresses these questions through in depth interviews, a nation wide telephone survey with follow up mail and a face to face survey. Edith Smit is associate professor at the Department of Communication at the University of Amsterdam and at the Amsterdam School of Communications Research ascor. She is also Deputy Director of swocc the Dutch Foundation for Fundamental Research on Commercial Communication.

Guide to Mass Media and Support Materials for Nutrition Education in Developing Countries, 1985

Abstract: Brief reviews of a variety of nutrition education materials are presented in this guide for nutrition educators in developing countries from the International Nutrition Communication Service. Reviews are categorized according to the following topics: nutrition for the family, maternal nutrition, young child feeding, growth monitoring and nutrition related health problems, malnutrition, vitamin A deficiency, iodine deficiency, iron deficiency, alcohol abuse, diarrhea. Some materials were used in successful nutrition education programs such as the Indonesian Nutrition Improvement Program, the Brazilian Breastfeeding Campaign and the Honduras Mass Media and Health Practices Project. Reviews include descriptions of the type of media, language and material content as well as organizations to contact for further information. Information about how materials were developed and reviewers assessments of materials relevance and quality are included for selected items. Guidelines for developing scientifically and artistically effective nutrition education materials, a glossary of
