Ecclesial Futures: Volume 1 Issue 1 Nigel Rooms, Steve Taylor, 2020-06-30 Ecclesial Futures publishes original research and theological reflection on the development and transformation of local Christian communities and the systems that support them as they join in the mission of God in the world. We understand local Christian communities broadly to include traditional parish churches and independent local churches religious communities and congregations new church plants so called fresh expressions of church emergent churches and new monastic communities. We are an international and ecumenical journal with an interdisciplinary understanding of our approach to theological research and reflection the core disciplines being theology missiology and ecclesiology. Other social science and theological disciplines may be helpful in supporting the holistic nature of any research e.g. anthropology and ethnography sociology statistical research biblical studies leadership studies and adult learning. The journal fills an important reflective space between the academy and on the ground practice within the field of mission studies ecclesiology and the so called missional church. This opportunity for engagement has emerged in the last twenty or so years from a turn to the local and the local church and in the western world at least from the demise of Christendom and a rapidly changing world which also affects the church globally. The audience for the journal is truly global wherever the local church and the systems that support them exist. We expect to generate interest from readers in church judicatory bodies theological seminaries university theology departments and in local churches from all God's people and the leaders amongst them.

Dialogue of Life Khee-Vun Lin, 2021-03-31 The status of the global church is often that of a sociopolitical minority at odds politically religiously and socially with the nations that encompass it. In such contexts where Christians find themselves facing oppression isolation and challenging questions of identity how is the church to faithfully uphold its missional calling. In this in depth study of Chinese Christians living in Sabah Malaysia Dr Khee Vun Lin engages missiology and political theology to address the practical implications of incarnational mission in contexts where national identity exclude Christians from the public discourse Examining the political and religious history of Malaysia including the impact of colonialism nationalism and Islamization Dr Lin provides a powerful explication of the theological and practical foundations for utilizing social engagement as a tool of incarnational mission Whether living under oppressive hegemonic control or the shadow of secular governments turned hostile to Christian values it is through embracing incarnational identity that Christians can authentically engage both nation building and evangelism to the good of their neighbor and the glory of God
