Studies in the Literary Imagination ,2018 The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction, 1945-2010 David James, 2015-10-06 The Cambridge Companion to British Fiction since 1945 provides insight into the critical traditions shaping the literary landscape of modern Britain Rule, Britannia! Homer B. Pettey, R. Barton Palmer, 2018-10-09 Winner of the 2019 SAMLA Studies Book Award for Edited Collections presented by the South Atlantic Modern Language Association Rule Britannia surveys the British biopic a genre crucial to understanding how national cinema engages with the collective experience and values of its intended audience Offering a provocative take on an aspect of filmmaking with profound cultural significance the volume focuses on how screen biographies of prominent figures in British history and culture can be understood as involved if unofficially in the shaping and promotion of an ever protean national identity The contributors engage with the vexed concept of British nationality especially as this sense of collective belonging is problematized by the ethnically oriented alternatives of English Scottish Welsh and Irish nations They explore the critical and historiographical issues raised by the biopic demonstrating that celebration of conventional virtue is not the genre's only natural subject Filmic depictions of such personalities as Elizabeth I Victoria George VI Elizabeth II Margaret Thatcher Iris Murdoch and Jack the Ripper are covered

Modernism in Irish Women's Contemporary Writing Paige Reynolds, 2023-11-23 Modernism in Irish Women's Contemporary Writing examines the tangled relationship between contemporary Irish women writers and literary modernism In the early decades of the twenty first century Irish women's fiction has drawn widespread critical acclaim and commercial success with a surprising number of these works being commended for their innovative redeployment of literary tactics drawn from early twentieth century literary modernism But this strategy is not a new one Across more than a century writers from Kate O'Brien to Sally Rooney have manipulated and remade modernism to draw attention to the vexed nature of female privacy exploring what unfolds when the amorphous nature of private consciousness bumps up against external ordering structures in the public world Living amid the tenaciously conservative imperatives of church and state in Ireland their female characters are seen to embrace reject and rework the ritual of prayer the fixity of material objects the networks of the digital world and the ordered narrative of the book Such structures provide a stability that is valuable and even necessary for such characters to flourish as well as an instrument of containment or repression that threatens to and in some cases does destroy them The writers studied here among them Elizabeth Bowen Edna O'Brien Anne

Enright Anna Burns Claire Louise Bennett and Eimear McBride employ the modernist mode in part to urge readers to recognize that female interiority the prompt for many of the movement s illustrious formal experiments continues to provide a crucial but often overlooked mechanism to imagine ways around and through seemingly intransigent social problems such as class inequity political violence and sexual abuse
