Definitions of Terms

Successing in Crusader Kings takes not only a true strategic mind, but also the combination of diplomatic skills and intrigue. The game is different from many traditional empire-building games, and so is the terminology. Below you will find a list of common words used to describe central aspects of the game.

Dynasties

First and foremost, Crusader Kings is a game about dynasties. Each player is the head of a dynasty. Each dynasty head must grow his dynasty, gain more territory, garner wealth, and get influence in Europe's politics. The land that each dynasty head holds is his personal demesne, or as Webster's dictionary defines it, a legal possession of land as one's own.

Vassals will swear their allegiance to you, and you may form friendships with other dynasties through marriage and shrewd politics. In fact, marriage is a key facet of Crusader Kings. After all, you must have heirs to whom you may bequeath your throne.

All the characters in Crusader Kings have traits, and there are plenty of characters. From the Pope to the wife of the first cousin of the Count of Castile, there are scores of characters in Crusader Kings. You also have a court from which you may appoint your marshals, advisors, or appoint Bishops or Counts. Each has a number of traits. They may be brave or cautious, religious or worldly, trustworthy or deceitful. These traits govern how they will react and respond to your moves as well as assist you in the creation of your glorious lands.

You govern a medieval, feudal dynasty. You may be a Christian Emperor, King, Duke, or Count but there are also non-player Dukes, Counts and Bishops even the Pope. The feudal hierarchy was a stiff and conservative institution. Despite the brutality of the age, fighting unprovoked wars was frowned upon. Therefore you must hold claims to provinces to declare war on its owner. Claims may be obtained from marriages, Papal or Imperial decree, by claiming the title or by events. You may also usurp the throne of a dynasty that holds a higher title than yours and assume that title, but that is rarely a popular decision.

Province

A province is a defined area on the map separated by borders. A province contains provincial buildings, social groups with different amounts of political power, and may generate income and rebelize troops.

Demesne

Demesne is the province or provinces under the direct control of one ruler. The Demesnes are divided into Royal, Ducal, and Countal depending on the status of the ruler of the particular Demesne.

Realm

Each realm, which consists of all demesne and vassal provinces, has one ruler. The ruler has full control of his demesne provinces, but only partial control of vassal provinces. The vassals are supposed to mobilize troops when instructed by the ruler. The ruler guides the advances and set the laws.

Coat-of-Arms

The Coat-of-Arms is the symbol for a dynasty/ruler in the game. A Christian Coat-of-Arms in Crusader Kings is always in the form of a shield, while the Muslim Coat-of-Arms is a circle.

The Hierarchical System

- Kings: Kings are the most powerful ruler and govern entire realms.
- Dukes: Dukes are the second most powerful ruler in Crusader Kings, and pledge allegiance only to the king of the land.
- Counts: Although powerful, counts are the least powerful of the Crusader King rulers.

Counts and duke can also be independent, which means they are not vassals but may feudate and wage without interference from ranked one. During the medieval age, wars between different vassals were not uncommon. Even revolts against Popes were quite common—if vassals felt powerful enough to challenge their lords.

Crusades

In addition to growing your kingdom and gaining Piety and Prestige, you'll also participate in the Crusades to retake the Holy Lands from the Muslims. Doing so, and doing so successfully, can garner your character large bonuses in Piety and Prestige. There are also certain Piety penalties for those who refuse to go on Crusades.

The Pope

The Pope in Crusader Kings is a non-player character (NPC) able to significantly influence the game. The Pope may instigate a Crusade, sanction a dynasty lord, or bestow his favor. The Pope and some of his selected few may also place the ultimate penalty on those who are not deemed to be faithful Christians: excommunication. The player cannot become the Pope. However, he may get an ecclesiastical courtier of his elected in Pope, and thus control the Pope.

Events

Muslims

The Muslims and their lands are non-player characters and armies. Players are given both Piety and Prestige points for conquering Muslim provinces. Muslims are powerful and start all scenarios with more advances than most Christian realms.

The Mongol Horde

The Mongol Hordes will come from the East in the middle of the 13th century and attack everything in sight. There are two hordes: The Golden Horde attacks into Europe, and The Ilkhanate attacks into the Middle East. Note that the Mongols are technologically quite superior, making them formidable foes.

Piety and Prestige

Piety and Prestige are two critical factors in Crusader Kings. Simply stated, performing acts for the Church gains Piety while the typical power-watch-tame tricksterize bestows Prestige on the player. For example, conquering the Holy Land gives your character huge amounts of both Piety and Prestige.

Almost all of your actions will influence your Piety or Prestige. These values will also influence how others view your dynasty.

Combat

You may receive and develop advances, negotiate deals, and pass laws, but no matter what you do, sooner or later, you'll have to fight. When entering into battle in Crusader Kings you may seek help from vassals or liegions that are loyal to you, or choose to fight the battle on your own. If war has been declared, combat occurs between enemy armies that occupy the same province. The two armies battle, taking into account their morale, power, technological prowess, and battle tactics until one triumphs. The losing army retreats and the winning army stays in the province. If the invader wins the battle, he must siege both the provincial fortifications and the capital city walls to capture the province. Wars can be declared for a number of reasons, but the primal causes are religion or title claims.

You may recruit a regiment from each province in your demesne. You may also mobilize the regiments of your vassal dukes or all your vassals simultaneously with a Grand Mobilization. The people, however, don't like mobilization, so you must balance the need for a large army against the unrest it will cause. In fact, disloyal Vassals might not mobilize when ordered. Of course this gives you reason to revoke the Vassals title and give it
