My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld

Clifford Lane

My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld:

My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld, Ph.d.,2015-10-16 This book is a socio autobiography of a young man born in a Jewish town at the foot hills of the Carpathian Mountains in 1925 to a devout Jewish family and his journey through the Holocaust toward academia in the United States This new edition also follows his story into retirement This book is the revelation and personal evolution of a boy born and steeped in orthodoxy who while retaining the essence of the values into which he inducted sought at the same time to re interpret his original values and ideals He takes this orthodox particularism and seeks to reconstruct it to become a universalist view of mankind This book is also a description of his effort to reconstruct his life which had been destroyed by Hitler s effort to make the world Jew free In the camps he lost most of his family upon which the foundation of his early life was built After the war finding himself alone he had to revise his plans for the future and was forced to find his way alone in another world and another way of life He seeks to overcome obstacles and rebuild his life while also finding a niche for himself in a new post Holocaust world Eugen Schoenfeld shares with his readers the hardships he endured both in the camps and after liberation of hunger and loneliness and separation from his father living behind the Iron Curtain He invites his readers to share the various choices he had to make to understand the reasons for his decisions in the process of re constructing his life He explores the paths he had to follow in order to achieve his goal of understanding finding the answers to the question he asked his father on the first day in Aushwitz Birkenau How is possible that now in the midst of the twentieth century after all the great achievements in philosophy psychology and theology man is still inhumane This book is his search for a way through which human beings can reconstruct themselves can cease living merely as human beings and evolving into humane beings My Reconstructed Life Eugen Schoenfeld,2005

Re-examining the Holocaust through Literature Aukje Kluge,Benn E. Williams,2009-03-26 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature which have been the subject of controversies in the US Europe and the Middle East Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism national and comparative literatures theater film history literary criticism religion and Holocaust studies this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context Genocide in the Carpathians Raz Segal,2016-05-18 Genocide in the Carpathians presents the history of Subcarpathian Rus a multiethnic and multireligious borderland in the heart of Europe This society of Carpatho Ruthenians Jews Magyars and Roma disintegrated under pressure of state building in interwar Czechoslovakia and during World War II from the onslaught of the Hungarian occupation Charges of foreignness and disloyalty to the Hungarian state linked antisemitism to xenophobia and national security anxieties. Genocide unfolded as a Hungarian policy and Hungarian authorities committed mass robbery, deportations and killings against all non Magyar groups in their efforts to recast the region as part of an ethnonational Greater Hungary. In considering the events that preceded the German invasion of Hungary in March 1944, this book reorients our view of the Holocaust not simply as a German drive for continent wide genocide but as a truly international campaign of mass murder related to violence against non Jews unleashed by projects of state and nation building. Focusing on both state and society, Raz Segal shows how Hungary's genocidal attack on Subcarpathian Rus obliterated not only tens of thousands of lives but also a diverse society and way of life that today, from the vantage point of our world of nation states, we find difficult to imagine.

A New Vision of Southern Jewish History Mark K. Bauman, 2019-05-14. Winner of the 2023 Southern Jewish Historical Society Book Award. Essays from a prolific career that challenge and overturn traditional narratives of southern Jewish history. Mark K. Bauman, one of the foremost scholars of southern Jewish history working today, has spent much of his career as he puts it, rewriting southern Jewish history in ways that its earliest historians could not have envisioned or anticipated, and doing so by specifically targeting themes and trends that might not have been readily apparent to those scholars. A New Vision of Southern Jewish History: Studies in Institution, Building, Leadership, Interaction, and Mobility features essays collected from over a forty year career, including a never before published article. The prevailing narrative in southern Jewish history tends to emphasize the role of immigrant Jews as merchants in small southern towns and their subsequent struggles and successes in making a place for themselves in the fabric of those communities. Bauman offers assessments that go far beyond these simplified frameworks and draws upon varieties of subject matter, time periods, locations, tools, and perspectives over three decades of writing and scholarship. A New Vision of Southern Jewish History contains Bauman's studies of Jewish urbanization, acculturation, and migration; intra and inter group relations; economics and business; government; civic affairs; transnational diplomacy; social services; and gender, all complicating traditional notions of southern Jewish identity. Drawing on role theory as informed by sociology, psychology, demographics, and the nature and dynamics of leadership, Bauman traverses a broad swath, often urban, of the southern landscape from Savannah, Charleston, and Baltimore through Atlanta, New Orleans, Galveston, and beyond, to the country, to Europe and Israel. Bauman's retrospective volume gives readers the opportunity to review a lifetime of work in a single publication, as well as peruse newly penned introductions to his essays. The book also features an Additional Readings section designed to update the historiography in the essays. American Book Publishing Record, 2005.

Faith and Conflict Eugen Schoenfeld, Eugen Schoenfeld, Ph.D., 2011. Faith and Hostilities. This book addresses four issues. First, it seeks to debunk the Jewish theological explanations for the rise of the Holocaust and provide an alternate sociological theory explaining the Holocaust. Second, the author proposes that religious and secular anti-Semitism that culminated in the Holocaust had its roots in Christianity's search for its own identity. The mechanism for acquiring its identity and its claim for the legitimacy of its ascendancy over Judaism was the dialectical method Third the author the author examines the validity of the claim for the existence of Judeo Christian values The historical experiences that serve as the infrastructure for values are different for the two religions While Judaism places primacy on the value of justice Christianity elevates the value of love above all others This bifurcation of the principal values led to two distinct Weltanschauungen Finally the author proposes that it is not tolerance of diversity that will lead to a harmonious society rather it will be achieved by the elevation of morals over faith He agrees with Ludwig Feuerbach and Emile Durkheim that faith accentuates divisiveness while morals enhance social integration Newsletter Georgia State University.
