Myth And Archive A Theory Of Latin American Narrative:

Myth and Archive Roberto González Echevarría, 1998 Discusses the theory of the origin and evolution of the Latin American narrative and the emergence of the modern novel Sub-versions of the Archive Carlos Riobó, 2010-12-29 Sub Versions of the Archive Manuel Puig's and Severo Sarduy's Alternative Identities analyzes recent theories of the archive to examine how Manuel Puig and Severo Sarduy reformulate the Latin American literary tradition This study focuses on eclectic theories of the archive as both repository and danger drawing from an array of sources both within and outside the Hispanic literary tradition from Borges Foucault Arrom Derrida González Echevarría and Guillory to digital media and biotechnology This book also applies theories of cultural contamination Maria Lugones and symbolic capital Pierre Bourdieu to the novels of Puig and Sarduy to explore the representation of marginal cultures within a body of literature that previously altered or elided these subaltern cultures from the tradition Through close readings and critical theoretical applications this book demonstrates how archival fiction continues to be one of the most popular strategies among Latin American novelists and most importantly how they have successfully managed to find new ways to inscribe their alternative fictions within this tradition Puig's and Sarduy's novels reproduce discourses popular culture and the mass media that lack prestige within the traditional archive These discourses mirror realities of marginal groups gay people children the poor the illiterate women and racial minorities Their cultural variants sub versions of hegemonic masterstories are endowed with truth bearing power for them but were previously left out of the archive as legitimate novelistic models To date this is the only study of contemporary Latin American fiction that puts current theories of the archive especially that of Roberto González Echevarría to practice in such a systematic way Riobó's analysis of how Puig and Sarduy reformulate the Latin American canon is both a necessary complement of González Echevarría's work and an intelligent answer to the first of his projected masterstories Riobó's multidisciplinary approach Myth and archive Roberto Gonzalez Echevarria, 2006 The Study of Photography in Latin America Nathaniel Gardner, 2025-06-17 In this book Nathaniel Gardner provides an insider's perspective to the study of photography in Latin America He begins with a carefully structured introduction that lays out his unique methodology for the book which features over eighty photographs and the insights from sixteen prominent Latin American photography scholars and historians including Boris Kossoy John Mraz and Ana Mauad The work reflects the advances and developments of the study of photography throughout Latin America with certain emphasis on Brazil and Mexico The author further underlines the role of important institutions and builds context by discussing influential theories and key texts that currently guide the discipline The Study of Photography in Latin America is critical to all who want to expand their current knowledge of the subject and engage more robustly with its experts Refiguring the Archive Carolyn Hamilton, 2002-12-31 Refiguring the Archive at once expresses cutting edge debates on the archive in South Africa and internationally and pushes the boundaries of those debates It brings together prominent thinkers from a range of disciplines mainly South Africans but a number from other countries Traditionally archives have been seen as preserving memory and as holding the past The contributors to this book question this orthodoxy unfolding the ways in which archives construct sanctify and bury pasts In his contribution Jacques Derrida an instantly recognisable name in intellectual discourse worldwide shows how remembering can never be separated from forgetting and argues that the archive is about the future rather than the past Collectively the contributors demonstrate the degree to which thinking about archives is embracing new realities and new possibilities The book expresses a confidence in claiming for archival discourse previously unentered terrains It serves as an early manual for a time that has already begun

Information Michele Kennerly, Samuel Frederick, Jonathan E. Abel, 2021-01-19 For decades we have been told we live in the information age a time when disruptive technological advancement has reshaped the categories and social uses of knowledge and when quantitative assessment is increasingly privileged Such methodologies and concepts of information are usually considered the provenance of the natural and social sciences which present them as politically and philosophically neutral Yet the humanities should and do play an important role in interpreting and critiquing the historical cultural and conceptual nature of information This book is one of two companion volumes that explore theories and histories of information from a humanistic perspective They consider information as a long standing feature of social cultural and conceptual management a matter of social practice and a fundamental challenge for the humanities today Bringing together essays by prominent critics

Information Keywords highlights the humanistic nature of information practices and concepts by thinking through key terms It describes and anticipates directions for how the humanities can contribute to our understanding of information from a range of theoretical historical and global perspectives Together with Information A Reader it sets forth a major humanistic vision of the concept of information

Blast, Corrupt, Dismantle, Erase Brett Josef Grubisic, Gisèle M. Baxter, Tara Lee, 2014-06-16 What do literary dystopias reflect about the times In Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase contributors address this amorphous but pervasive genre using diverse critical methodologies to examine how North America is conveyed or portrayed in a perceived age of crisis accelerated uncertainty and political volatility Drawing from contemporary novels such as Cormac McCarthy's The Road Neil Gaiman's American Gods and the work of Margaret Atwood and William Gibson to name a few this book examines dystopian literature produced by North American authors between the signing of NAFTA 1994 and the tenth anniversary of 9 11 2011 As the texts illustrate awareness of and deep concern about perceived vulnerabilities ends of water oil food capitalism empires stable climates ways of life non human species and entire human civilizations have become central to public discourse over the same period By asking questions such as What are the distinctive qualities of post NAFTA North American dystopian literature and What does this literature reflect about the tensions and contradictions of the inchoate continental community of North America Blast Corrupt Dismantle Erase serves to resituate dystopian writing within a particular geo social setting and introduce a productive means to understand both North American dystopian writing and its relevant engagements with a restricted mapped reality The Companion to Latin American Studies Philip Swanson,2014-04-04 celebrated novel by considering how giving a gift is like telling a story Grounding his study on the work of Derrida and Bataille Abeyta focuses on the theme of the gift in Terra Nostra analyzing how gift giving excess expenditure sacrifice and exchange give shape to the novel The question of giving leads him into contemplation of such parallel issues as money and exchange economies the gift's role in art and narration and the Baroque in Latin American culture an elaborate set of arguments that puts Fuentes's understanding of Latin American culture in a surprising new light Abeyta's study opens new windows on this difficult work as he grapples intelligently with the sometimes dizzying conceptual dances that Fuentes performs He shows how Fuentes's rereading of Latin American history confronted important changes during the initial encounter between Europe and the Americas which coincided with the spread of the European market and the shift from a gift to an exchange economy from a culture in which economic relations were based on sacrifices tributes or gifts to one in which market forces predominated He also engages in the recent scholarly debate on the potlatch and its implications in New World culture As Abeyta reveals underlying Fuentes's treatment of the gift is a deep questioning of utopian thought and its impact throughout Latin America's history His insights help define Terra Nostra's place in current discussions in literary theory about art economy and the question of the gift and this work stand to be hailed as one of the most perceptive readings of the novel yet to appear
